PRODUCTION

All industrial machine knit sweaters are made at our small family run factory in Peru with a dedication to quality in their machine work and hand finishing work.

Hand-loomed pieces are made with artisan partners in Peru. A certified Fair Trade company offering jobs to mostly women in their local community.

Cut & Sew Easy pieces are made in the USA from fiber to finishing with cotton that's organically grown and sustainably processed. The natural color is undyed, washed with a plant based scour while the black is dyed with a low impact dye in a circular system where waste water is treated and recycled back into their processing. These are sewn at a small family run factory in PA offering fair wages to the local community.

The Sweatshirt Sweater is knit in NYC with yarns from NY state. A bio regional, climate beneficial product. The alpaca farms are signed on to Fibershed certified climate beneficial practices to rebuild their soil health, enabling them to sequester more carbon than they emit. The sheep farms are in the process of signing on to the program but are currently carbon neutral operations.
