

ROMPHIM TAILORING GUIDE

The RompHim romper is designed for a wide variety of people and body types, so we're not expecting it to fit everyone perfectly right off the shelf. If you're looking for a fit that's even more customized to your body, we've put together this quick tailoring guide with some common tailoring requests to help get you romping in no time!

Note: Estimated prices reflect a selection of Chicago tailors; your charges may vary

Sleeves tapering: ~$10

Tapering the sleeves will narrow the sleeve opening and give you a more fitted feel around the arms

Bringing in the waist: ~$15

Bringing in the waist will provide a closer fit around the midsection, likely done along with back darting. Note: The tailor can also adjust the positioning of the side buttons if desired (this can also cinch the waist).

Shorts hem: ~$10

Hemming the shorts will shorten the length of the shorts (and the inseam) to show more leg.

Chest tapering: ~$20

Tapering the chest will offer a more fitted look and feel around the whole upper body. The tailor may also add additional darts in the back to help capture any additional fabric.

Shorts tapering: ~$20

Tapering the shorts will narrow the shorts opening and give you a more fitted feel around the thighs.
