

gierups

Thirty years of turning down the thermostat.

Happy birthday to you!

Nanny Glerups started crafting the family's slippers back in 1993, inspired by soft, durable, no-itch wool produced by the flock of Gotland sheep grazing outside her kitchen window.

In Nanny's hands, nature's miracle fibre became glerups, the most comfortable slippers you have ever worn.

Glerups wick away moisture, pack into the smallest overnight bag, and make everywhere feel like "home."

Cozy, warm glerups give you the gift of lower heating bills.

Talk about living in the present!

Here's the icing on the cake.

Comfort and easy style are second nature in new North Sea, Sand and White, colours borrowed from the world around us.

Love from farm to foot.

Nanny Glerups started with wool from the family's own Gotland sheep. Over the years the Glerups family perfected the wool mix by blending Gotland wool with wool from New Zealand sheep that roam and graze free, developing superior quality coats.

Only those herds that meet our high standards for consistent quality and humane animal welfare are chosen.

We walk with our compassionate herders every step along the entire path and carefully follow your glerups from sheep to feet.

Care tips.

- 1) Since wool has a natural ability to self-clean, your glerups will stay fresh if you simply air them out and allow them to rest.
- To remove stains gently clean the area with a wet cloth and wool soap. You may have to repeat the process a few times, and make sure you leave the slippers to dry before starting over again.
- 3 Vacuum or blow your glerups clean of dust. Leather soles can be brushed and cleaned with a leather brush.
- 4 Rubber soles can be wiped with a wet cloth—make sure to dry after cleaning as they can be slippery on wet and icy surfaces such as tile flooring.

Should my glerups be shedding?

Your glerups usually shed within the first 3-4 weeks of wear giving you a long-lasting comfortable feel. This is normal due to the natural treatment of our wool. Simply pluck the shedding fibres off and discard as desired.

Should I wear my glerups with bare feet?

Yes, wool keeps the sheep's bare skin just the right temperature and it will do the same for your bare skin. We recommend that you try your glerups without socks. Wool and skin work naturally together. As we say in Denmark—bare is better!

Fitting Glerups.

Barefoot is best, so be sure to take this into consideration when sizing your glerups. The fit should be firm, without the toes pressing too much against the end of the glerups. The inner sole will compress slightly and the upper will give with wear, so a snug fit is recommended.
