"The paintings of artist Claire Desjardins delve into the visual possibilities of gesture and color, emphasizing energetic, animated brush strokes and bold, colorful palettes. She strives to communicate a sense of the personal and unpredictable in her work, infusing her paintings with a sense of immediacy and depth of emotional expression. ABOUT

COLORIST. EXPRESSIONIST. MINIMALIST. NATURALIST.

Once I was able to keep a few plants alive a few years ago, they taught me so much about my own life as well as being in harmony with nature. It was around that time that I started painting with a sense of purpose - colorful reflections of what I sense in nature. Painting and crafting art installations has become my own language for interaction with my environment - the ultimate living sculpture. Each color possesses its own visual resonance, enhanced in chorus by others around it. My works tend to exist as a moment of true organic expression - a mark suspended in space, frozen in time.

Stephanie's studio resides in Conifer, Colorado where continual exchange with nature informs and inspires her lifestyle and art - curiosity and adventure around every corner. She has over a decade of experience working in the built environment and enjoys collaborating with other creatives on the intention of a space.
