

MARTHA STEWART

Living

LOVE YOUR LIFE

Fresh Ideas for a
Happier, Healthier
Year

MAKING GOOD
HABITS LAST

EASY WAYS TO EAT WELL

SMALL-BATCH
BAKING

THE SECRET
TO ORGANIZING
ANY ROOM

Plus
Martha Shares Her
Valentine's Day Treats

Good LIVING

HOME, STYLE, BEAUTY, HEALTH

One True Love

When you're flirting with décor ideas, there's much to be said for committing to a single favorite hue that makes you extremely happy. The monochromatic approach may be the most basic in color-and-design theory, but the results are stylishly sublime. Turn the page to explore inspiring spaces that illustrate this option, and discover ideas (both big and small) for inviting it into your place.

TEXT BY ELENI N. GAGE

Reach for Reds

Rich, earthy reds from terra-cotta to rust can turn a wall the striking color of a desert sunset.

A duet of burnt reds, plus dashes of taupe, make up this pattern inspired by Moroccan mosaic tiles. Wayne Pate+Studio Four NYC Casablanca, $68 a yd., studiofournyc.com.