Palmero Healthcare Introduces a Trio of Safety-Focused Products

Stratford, CT – Palmero Healthcare announced the release of three new products designed to protect the healthcare professionals and their patients from microbes and airborne pathogens. The new foaming hand sanitizer from Palmero kills 99.99% of bacteria in just 30 seconds while the new ProVision® Secure™ Safety Eyewear with Strap eliminates the gap between eyewear and face. The two new products join the recently released Palmero HVESolo™ disposable evacuation tip as a trio of safety-oriented products the company offers to help practices with affordable infection prevention.

“The best way to combat the spread of microbes, viruses and diseases is still prevention, and prevention starts with protection,” said Karen Neiner, President for Palmero Healthcare, now a member of HuFriedyGroup. “This trio of safety-focused products will give practices the peace-of-mind that comes knowing we are in this together and all doing our part to keep everyone protected.”

“Our new hand sanitizer delivers the same antimicrobial efficacy in a foaming formulation that provides an economic, consistent and efficient delivery. Our ProVision® Safety Eyewear offers an affordable, effective way to meet the most current personal protective equipment guidelines. Plus, our recently released HVESolo™ disposable evacuation tip allows for clinicians to more efficiently use High Volume Evacuation without an assistant to reduce aerosols. These products offer practices an affordable way to maintain their clinical safety and practice integrity.”

The new Palmero hand sanitizer is based on a proprietary foaming formula that contains 62% ethyl-alcohol in a pump dispenser in order to deliver antimicrobial efficacy in a smaller measured dosage. It’s a fast, effective and readily-available option.

The ProVision® Secure™ Safety Eyewear offers the wearer distortion free, anti-fog, anti-static lenses for superior peripheral vision and protection. The unique vent design at the top and the bottom of the foam insulation helps provide a comfortable experience while providing protection from hazardous spray, splatter and splashes from pathogens.
