

Art, Angels & Abundance

by Dede Lyons

Did you know that being in a state of gratitude attracts abundance in all areas of our life? Eckhart Tolle's quote says it all: "Acknowledging the good you already have in your life is the foundation for all abundance". I recently discovered how art, angels and abundance are all linked and when coupled with feeling grateful, will enhance your path to manifest your dreams.

It is important to know that abundance comes in all forms: a glowing testimonial, a new career, more self-love and romantic love, increased financial prosperity, abundant health, inner peace, etc.

My first Feel Good Express class collaboration; Art, Angels & Abundance with a very talented artist, Carol Calicchio, helped me get a clearer perspective. As an empowerment coach and angel guide, I enjoy empowering people with tools to uncover and own their gifts, connect to their guardian angels and steer them onto the abundance path. I continually look for new and different ways to unite others with their heavenly beings.

I have always loved art, visiting art galleries and museums and attending art events in all the countries and cities my husband and I traveled to over the past thirty-three years. Plus residing most of our lives in Manhattan afforded us access to some of the finest art in the world. It was all about this good feeling I would receive when I was completely present as I immersed myself in a piece of art.

I noticed I felt this same wonderful feeling when I gazed at Carol's spectacular art. Subsequently, I began thinking how we could join forces, present a workshop that bridges art and angels and inspires others to feel the happiness of being present in the moment. Presto! I was in the stream of attracting my new avenue. This was an exciting shift for me since historically I had always aligned my clients with their guardian angels primarily through journaling.

The debut of Art, Angels & Abundance was manifesting! We decided Carol would teach the painting class portion and I would demonstrate how being teamed up with your unseen helpers would attract fruitfulness into your life. What would be unique about this painting class was each attendee would paint their celestial being and connect to them through their creation on the canvas. As they started to vibrate higher, they would begin to own their power to attract their hopes and dreams.

We found this spectacular gallery venue, Haven Palm Beach, that was bursting with exquisite art. The owners were very receptive to the theme which further added to our enthusiasm. Our goal was to inspire our attendees to be engrossed in their artistic talents, while elevating them to their higher selves and angelic realm, through the act of painting.

Carol even created a stunningly gorgeous life size painting, Angel Wings, specifically for the workshop. We started visualizing the class participants standing in front of her painting spreading their wings. Not only did the artists jump at the chance but they also used her Angel Wings work of art as a model for creating their enchanting art pieces. Our magnetic power of intention materialized right in front of our eyes.

The magic, the miracles and the good feelings ignited!

I'm feeling abundantly grateful that the workshop was a big success. Discovering art, as a new pathway to unite others with their angels and Carol to team up with was the icing on the cake!
