

the maidstone end table

Bleached milpa veneer is one of our favorite materials to work with. Here the veneer is hand cut and carefully laid in a patchwork pattern. The pattern highlights the subtle tones of this special material. We designed this end table to function as both a nightstand or as an end table. Featuring a generous drawer and open shelf. A Homenature exclusive handcrafted in Mexico.

Milpa wood is primarily sourced from cornfields in Mexico where farmers buried the tree stumps to make way for planting. Buried underground the wood develops its own spectacular patina and is then sunbleached.
