

A BIT MORE ABOUT US...

Re-introduced in 2018 by new owners, FiendOil™ is formulated for today as a multi-purpose household lubricant that performs under all kinds of circumstances. Why? First, it contains no solids like Teflon™ or graphite, which can build up over time and force extensive cleaning on lubricated parts. Additionally, it won't attract dirt and therefore won't blacken over time. Most differentiating, FiendOil™ is formulated to perform down to -65° below zero and up to 400°. Which makes it an ideal lubricant for those who want to know they'll have smooth operation no matter what mother nature has in mind. It's no wonder FiendOil™ is rapidly becoming a go-to lubricant for users who are tired of seeing cold temperatures gum up their outdoor facing locks, garage door tracks, hinges, bike chains and, even some hunters – no strangers to the need for cold weather performance - have discovered it and now many swear by it.

FiendOil™ is formulated and packaged in USA and comes in both drip and spray form.
