“After I got FiendOil it really did change the way I view oils, clearly not all oil is created equal. I’ve used this on my motorcycles, I tried it on my firearms (and I have since given away all of my other gun oils because I don’t need them anymore) I even tried it on some tools I found in the shed of my grandmother’s house (I thought they were rusted so bad they’d never function again, your oil broke the rust apart like a charm). Hopefully you can get this into stores soon because more people need this in their life.”

“I have to admit, I love your brand’s design. It reminds me of something you would find before the aviation era.”

“I applied FiendOil to my bike chain weekly and did not have to ever remove my chain for thorough cleaning. Even with weekly application, over 900 miles of riding, I only went through 3/4 of a drip can. You can totally use it on other parts of your bike as well as squeaky doors or anything else that needs a spot of lubricant.”
