A 16 year old boy from Harare, Zimbabwe, Africa was brought to the United States of America to do an operation to restore his face and mouth of a horrible residual disfigurement that occurred when he was 10 years old. At that time he placed what he thought was a toy, inside of his mouth. It was a land mine that detonated destroying all of his mouth from the base of his nose to his chin. An attempt to repair the injury was done in Harare but left him with a massive scar on his face where his lips once were. He could only drink liquids through a straw in order to survive.

The surgery was performed at the UCLA Medical Center in 2007. The entire story was featured in People's Magazine in the August 22, 2008 edition on page 98 showing the before and after result.
