

LIMBSAVER[®]

Dear valued customers,

The fallout from the COVID-19 pandemic continues to dramatically impact the lives of millions throughout the world. While our top priority remains the health and safety of our customers and employees, please know that we are moving forward with production to fulfill online orders ASAP and to get resellers restocked quickly. We are excited to be operating again, but are doing so at a limited capacity due to nationwide supply-chain issues which has resulted in materials shortages and delayed shipping and delivery windows.

At this time, we have resumed all operations in accordance with state and federal guidelines, and are looking forward to the day that we can operate without limits or restrictions.

We want to express our deepest gratitude to our customers for their patience and understanding during this difficult time, and to encourage each and every one of our fantastic customers to stay safe.

Sincerely,

Steven Sims
President
