PATCHRAT

Important Info

The images in this catalog are composites of the actual interfaces designed and developed for the Patchrat app. Each knob, switch, button, fader, VU meter and faceplate has been digitally rendered with every effort made to faithfully represent the real-world hardware that is central to each user's daily workflow and creative process.

Here at Patchrat HQ, we are continually developing new interfaces, giving top-priority to requests from Patchrat subscribers. Fortunately, our sizeable arsenal of virtual components allows us to do so with remarkable speed and accuracy - most interfaces taking only 2-3 hours to design and code. If you need support for a particular piece of gear just let us know and we'll get you squared away in short order.

If you have any questions or gear requests, please contact us at: support@patchrat.com.

We look forward to hearing from you!

Stereo/Paired Interfaces

Many of the single-channel devices in this catalog are also available in stereo/paired configurations and will be displayed as seen here. Most single-channel devices can be made available in stereo/paired configurations upon request and at no additional cost.

Development Status

Most of the gear in this catalog is already available for download via the Patchrat app. We have also included gear that is either currently in the development queue or that can easily be fast-tracked upon request. These devices can be recognized as follows:

-  Orange icons indicate a device that is able to be fast-tracked upon request. Typical turnaround on requests is 1-2 weeks depending on backlog.
-  Green icons indicate devices currently in development with a beta version already available for use in the Patchrat app. Beta devices have fully functional signal routing capabilities, product specs, manuals, etc... relying on the photos and notes features to document gear settings while we finish developing the GUI. Once development is complete, beta devices are automatically updated with the fully functional UI.
