

Affirmations for healing your childhood
emotional neglect

Feelings are never right or wrong. They just are.

for healing yourself

I am proud to be a deeply feeling person.

for healing yourself

All human beings make mistakes. What matters is that I learn from mine.

for healing yourself

I deserve to be cared for.

for healing yourself

My feelings are walled off, but they are still there, and they are important.

for healing yourself

Every feeling can be managed.

for healing yourself

Asking for help is a sign of strength.

for healing yourself

My wants and needs are just as important as anyone else's.

for healing yourself

My feelings are important messages from my body.

for healing yourself

My feelings matter.

for healing yourself

I am a valid human being with feelings and needs.

for healing yourself

I am worth getting to know.

for healing yourself

I am a likeable and lovable person.

for healing yourself

I am the only person responsible for getting my own needs met.

for healing yourself

It is not selfish, but responsible, to put my own needs first.

for healing yourself

I did not choose to grow up emotionally neglected.

For coping with your parents

My parents could not give me what they did not have.

For coping with your parents

My parents are not capable of seeing or knowing the real me.

For coping with your parents

I am angry at my parents for a reason. They failed me in a very important way.

For coping with your parents

I can spend time with my emotionally neglectful parents. My boundaries will protect me.

For coping with your parents

I don't have to be validated by my parents. I validate myself.

For coping with your parents

If my parents are not able to see me, I will see myself.

For coping with your parents

It's my responsibility to give myself what my parents couldn't give me. And I will.

For coping with your parents

I matter, and so does my spouse/partner

for healing your relationship

My partner cannot read my mind.

for healing your relationship

It's my responsibility to tell my partner what I want, feel and need.

for healing your relationship

My partner and I each have hundreds of feelings each and every day.

for healing your relationship

It's okay if my partner's feelings are not the same as mine.

for healing your relationship

The facts are less important than my partner's feelings.

for healing your relationship

When it comes to my marriage/relationship, sharing is key.

for healing your relationship

My partner needs me to talk more and ask more questions.

for healing your relationship

My children's feelings drive their behaviour.
Feelings first.

For parenting your children

I can't give my children what I do not have myself.

For parenting your children

My child is important, but so am I.

For parenting your children

The better I care for myself, the better I can care for my child.

For parenting your children

I don't need to be a perfect parent. I just need to pay enough attention to their feelings.

For parenting your children

I will give my child what I never got from my parents.

For parenting your children

The best way to do better for my children is to do better for myself.

For parenting your children

Adapted from 38 Daily Affirmations For Healing Your Childhood Emotional Neglect by Jonice Webb, PhD <https://bit.ly/2SZFqEI> used with permission