

Blackhead Killer Mask goes PINK for the Breast Cancer Research Foundation

Summary:

Cosmetic pioneer DIGITAL SOURCING to Donate Percentage of Sales to Breast Cancer Research Foundation.

DIGITAL SOURCING, inventor and owner of Blackhead Killer Mask, announces special PINK edition of the highly acclaimed product and donates a percentage of the sales from October 1st to end of the year to the Breast Cancer Research Foundation.

Details:

Odense, September 20th. DIGITAL SOURCING, a worldwide cosmetics company pioneering in sustainable principles at the forefront of performance-driven e-commerce takes social entrepreneurship to the highest level.

The global vendor and manufacturer is committed to the code of ethics throughout. The company continues to support Doctors without Borders (Medics Sans Frontier) and has extended its charitable focus this year to support the Breast Cancer Research Foundation in various countries such as Sweden, Norway and Switzerland, not only in October when everything turns pink but extended their support till the end of the year.

The customers are mainly women and the company believes in the true meaning of charity and humanity and therefore have chosen to support Breast Cancer Research Foundation.

Digital Sourcing developed a special edition of their highly acclaimed product "Blackhead Killer Mask" in pink to show their appreciation for the amazing work the Breast Cancer Foundation does every year. An initial 35.000 packs of a 5-pieces special edition box will hit the market in October 2017.

The donation amount will vary from country to country, e.g. Swedish sales from our partner Harmoniq will contribute SEK 10.00 per sold 5-piece pack. Manor, Switzerland, assured also their support to the Breast Cancer Research Foundation.

PRESS RELEASE

The Blackhead Killer Mask is a revolutionary face mask that removes grease, blocked pores, blackheads, impurities, and excess oil in just minutes. Sold in 140 countries, in millions, this mask is the most effective all-natural way to clear and beautiful skin.

CEO, Mr. Jacob Helleberg Mathiesen: "The whole team at Digital Sourcing are deeply inspired by the work of the Foundation and I am very excited that we will support the Breast Cancer Research Foundation with a substantial amount and contribute to finding a cancer cure. Breast cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death among women. Women represent about 80% of our customer base and it is such a pleasure for us to give back and to use our success to help others."

Customers who purchase the special pink edition of the Blackhead Killer Mask will not only actively donate to the Breast Cancer Research Foundation, and their quest to finding a cure but also receive an amazingly effective product.
