Printing Recommendations

File:

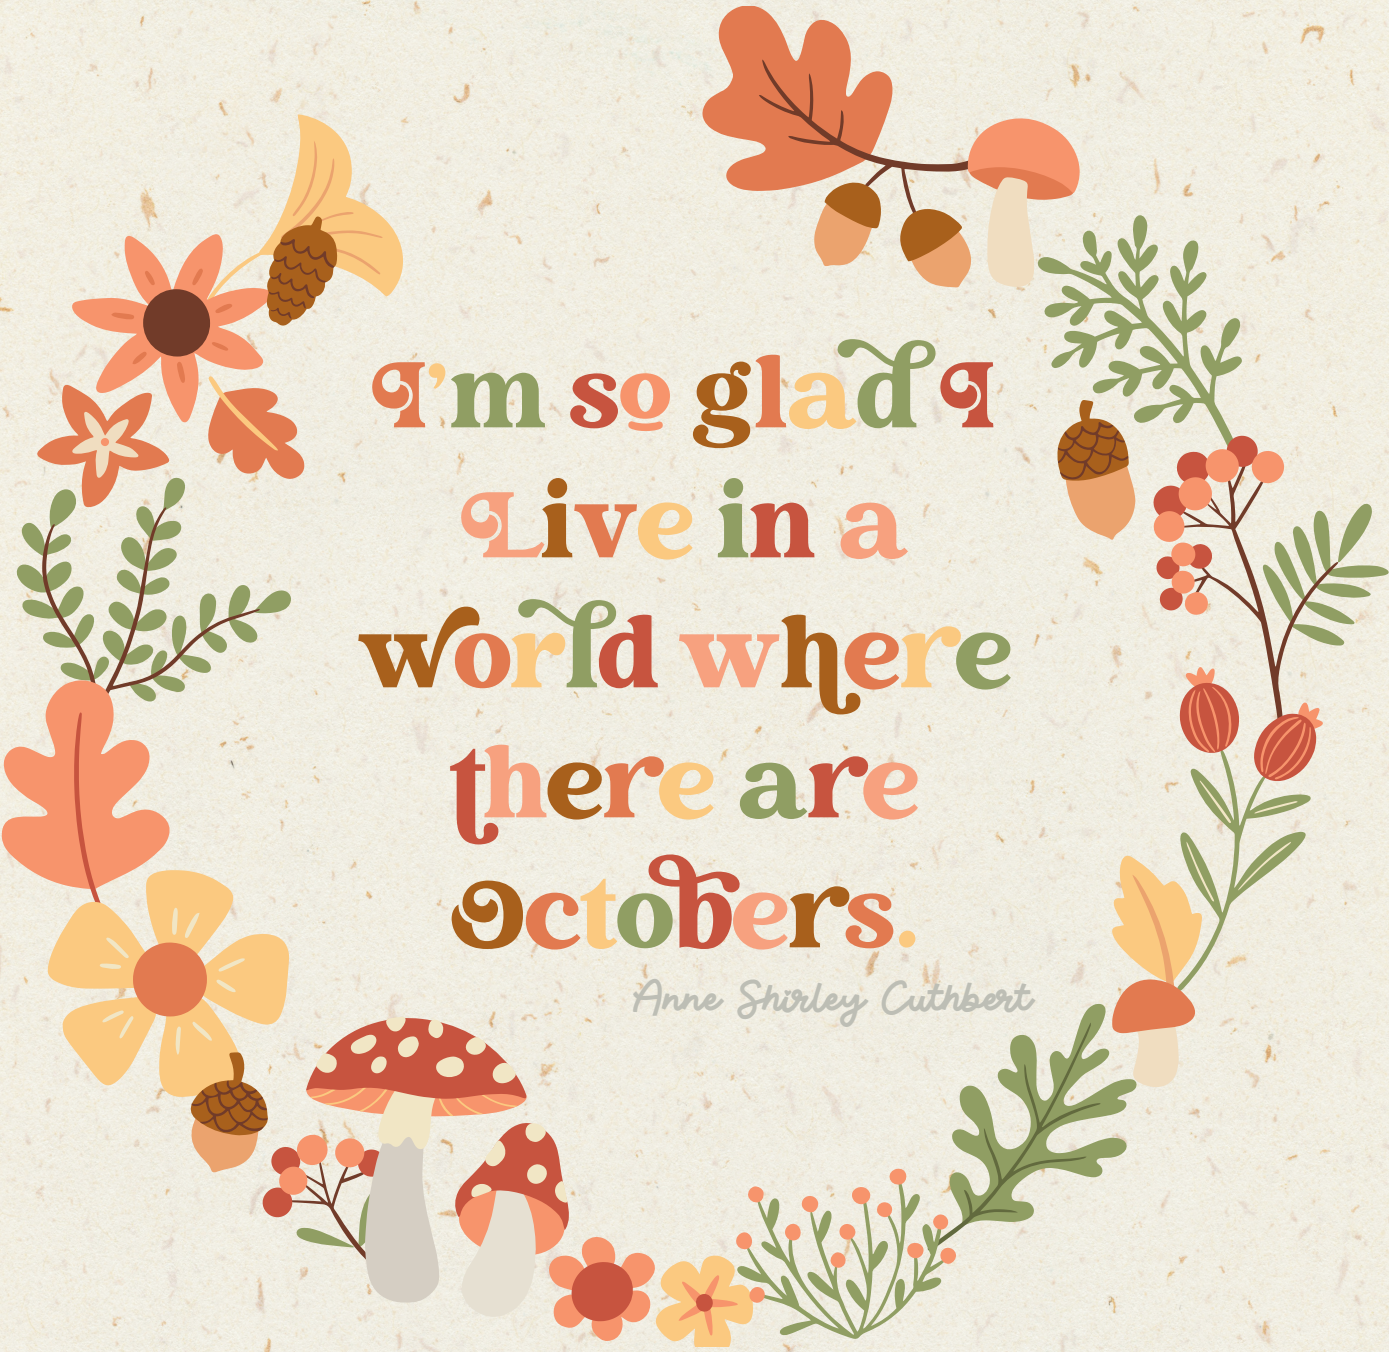

- Download the file on your computer (phones and tablets can compress files for less-than-crisp prints).
- Choose the page you'd like to print - with or without cut lines.

Paper:

You can choose any paper you have on hand. However, for the highest quality print we recommend using matte photo paper.

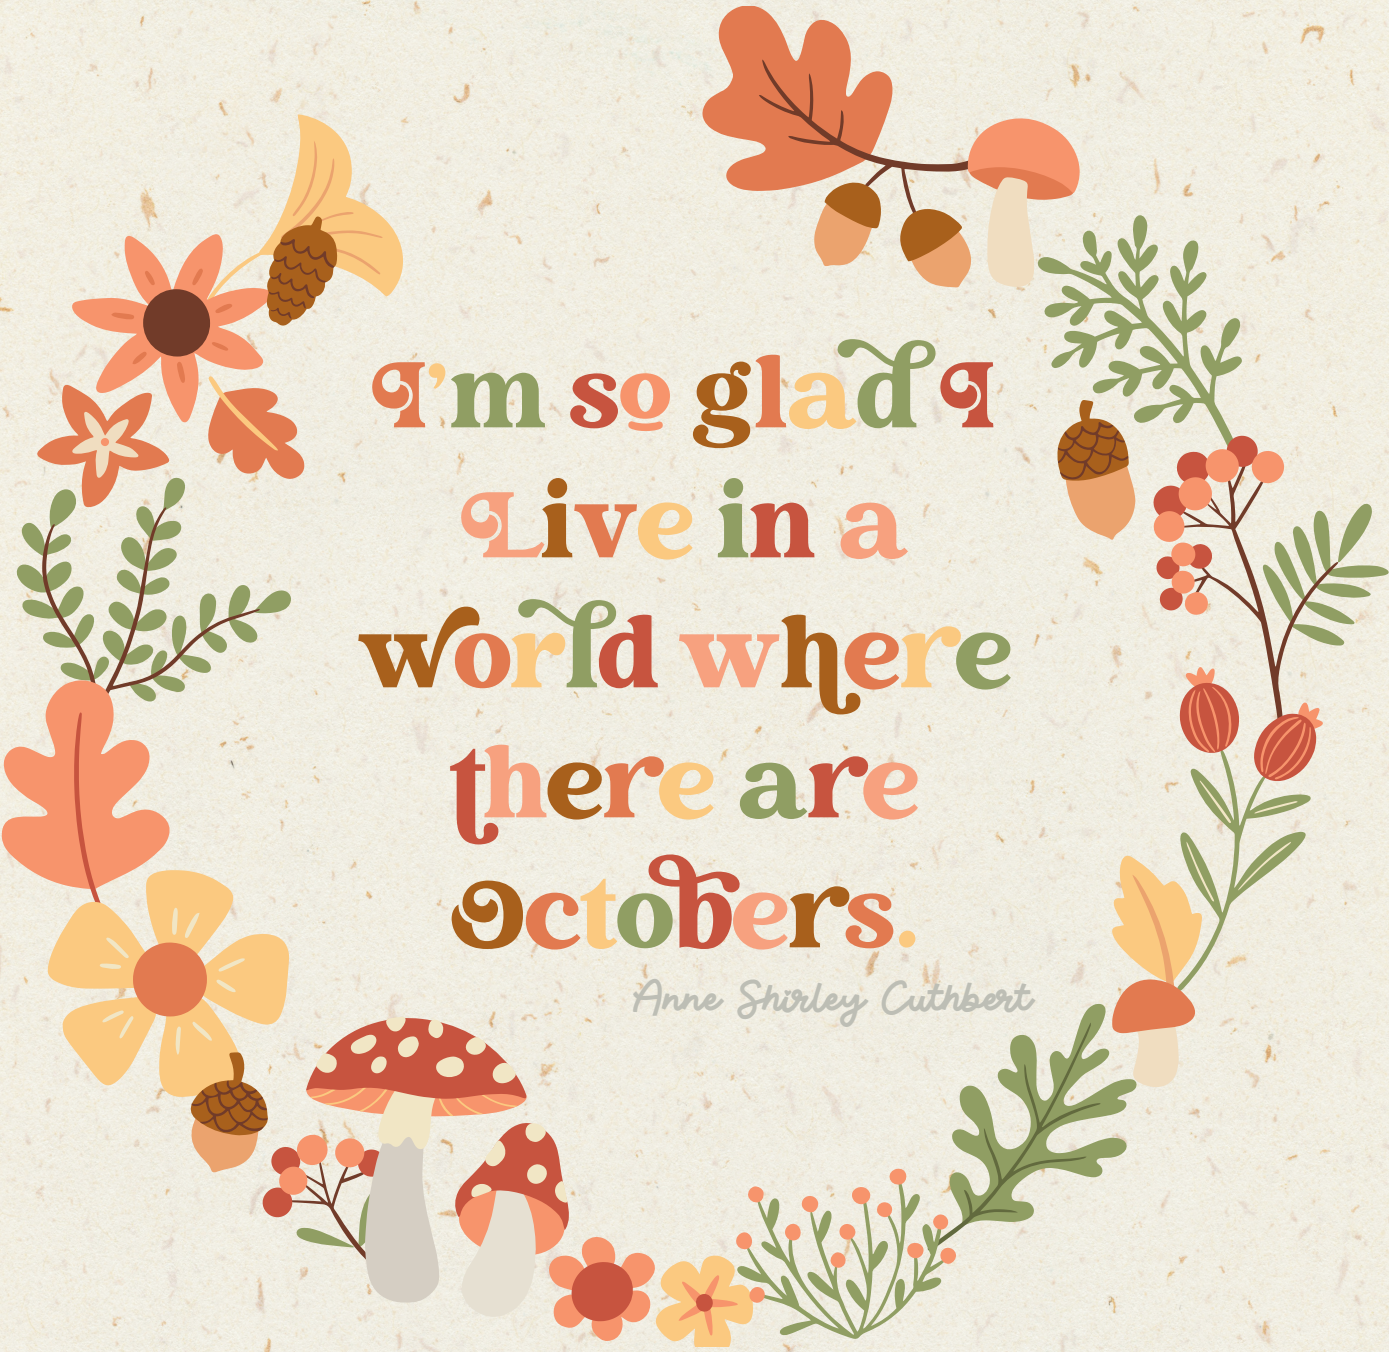

Printer:

- Select your chosen paper type.
- Select 100% or "Do Not Scale"
- Select the highest quality print option you have available.
- Choose "borderless printing" if you want the print to go all the way to the edge (not always available).
- This is an ink-heavy design, so it's best to let your print dry completely before handling to avoid smudges.
