

My Own Crown

Prepared by: Allen Williams II Founder & CEO

December 15, 2018

BEASTGEEKS LLC.

KARMA

When people think, speak or act a force is created. This returning force may be modified, changed or suspended, but most people aren't able to stop it. The law of karma doesn't exclude any religion, or science. Therefore avoiding universal principles is inescapable.

BeastGeeks belief systems core values are based upon treating each other, and our partners with courtesy and respect. Which includes our family, customers, and shareholders.

With our partners we expect their supply chain to abide by the same principles. As an organization our plan is to leave positive energy everywhere. Not hiding behind unethical behavior that's attached to our products, and services. We're not perfect, but we strive to give superior effort.

IT IS BETTER TO CONQUER SELF, THAN TO WIN EVERY BATTLE. BUDDHA

MATERIALS

BEASTGEEKS LLC.

BeastGeeks understands the law of energy. Energy is stored in fabrics, metals, and stones. Therefore choosing the best partners to supply quality, safe, natural, and negative karma free materials to make our Crowns.

BeastGeeks wont choose environmentally unsafe fabrics, thats highly flammable. Or metals that easily tarnish, nor metals stolen from land without proper permission. Lastly, we refuse to use stones whose manufacturing tactics create unsafe working environments to workers, and surrounding communities.

The human head is the central point of energy distribution and the head is where our customers may where our products. It's important to understand energy on, or around the head should only be related to positive energy for our customers, from negative karma free materials. Hello Halo!

The Law of vibrations: states nothing is at rest, and everything is energy.

SLAVERY

BeastGeeks currently, and in the future will not partner with any company and brand throughout our supply chain involved with slavery, and human trafficking. Our definition of slavery is: the recruitment of child labor, for the purpose of unfair wages, sex exploitation, organ white market, through the use of violence, and deception. Any partnerships found to participate or associate with any of the prior listed will end immediately.

BeastGeeks investigates potential partners, their executives, and manufacturers before partnering. We choose our supply chain carefully. Any form of human trafficking, and slavery and unwanted karma to all involved including, unaware consumers, and employees.

BeastGeeks purpose is to create markets for existing companies through creative branding , and superior web experiences. Then deliver clean, and negative karma free fashionable products to consumers to withstand time. First up? A fitted hat we like to call.... A Crown.
