Terms and Conditions

Membership may be cancelled after the second shipment. Old Creek Ranch Winery (OCRW) will ship your wine club selections directly to your preferred address, either home or office. Be advised an adult signature 21+ is required. No wine will be delivered to any person unable to produce age verification, and in such case, he or she forfeits the right to receive the shipment until identification is produced. In such circumstances, the order may be held in storage at a local depot until appropriate identification is produced, or it may be shipped back to OCRW. If a wine shipment is shipped back to OCRW, the customer is responsible for freight charges.

Shipments are sent via GSO. At the current time we are only shipping in CA. Carriers make three attempts to deliver, after which the wine is returned to OCRW. Returned shipments, as a result of incorrect address or marked as “undeliverable”, will be re-shipped at the member’s request with additional shipping charges. A redirected package will result in a redirect fee if a tracking number has been assigned.

Average cost per shipment is calculated before tax and shipping. Members are responsible for all taxes, shipping or handling fees, including shipments that are refused, returned, or shipped to an old address. By providing your credit card information and signature, you authorize OCRW to bill your credit card for each shipment. Wines and prices are subject to change and availability. Membership is ongoing and you may cancel your membership at any time after two Club shipments. Cancellations must be received in writing with a 15 day notice after receiving your second Club shipment and you must receive a confirmation from the OCRW team via email.

OCRW reserves the right to cancel Club membership at anytime due to repeated shipment issues and/or failure to provide valid credit card information.
