

Customizable Wood Products Made in LA

Would Works is a non-profit social enterprise that provides wood working training and job opportunities for people living in homelessness or extreme poverty in Los Angeles.

All of our products are made from solid domestic hardwoods and are hand sanded and finished by Would Works artisans. Our artisans are working towards concrete financial goals and each purchase helps them reach their goal while gaining valuable work experience and hands-on skills.

All products come with a signed thank you card from the artisan who made it.
