Course Objectives:

This 2 1/2 day training module will provide the fire/arson investigator with the practical and technical skills necessary to demonstrate compliance with the job performance requirements listed in NFPA® 1033 Standard Professional Qualifications for Fire Investigator.

This training module will provide both classroom and hands-on training with practical exercises on how to comply with the JPR's by actually being given the, task, tools, and measurable outcomes to demonstrate the ability to successfully complete the JPR's. The documentation will be two-fold, you will have a completed check off sheet certifying you completed the JPR's, and photographic documentation of yourself completing each of the JPR's

Upon Successful Completion:

Attendees will have been provided the necessary skills and knowledge to show compliance with the job performance requirements as listed in NFPA® 1033:

NFPA® 1033 states, 1.1* Scope. This standard identifies the minimum job performance requirements (JPR's) for fire investigators.

1.2* Purpose. The purpose of this standard shall be to specify the minimum job performance requirements for serving as a fire investigator in both the private and public sectors.

1.2.2 Job performance requirements for each duty are the tasks an individual must be able to perform in order to successfully carry out that duty; however, they are not intended to measure a level of knowledge. Together, the duties and job performance requirements define the parameters of the job of fire investigator.

4.1.1* The fire investigator shall meet the job performance requirements defined in Sections 4.2 through 4.7

The question is, if or when you are ask, can you show the court, attorney, judge, or whomever is asking the question, do you meet the job performance requirements as listed in NFPA®1033, what will your answer be?

If your answer is yes, then you are ask, please provide us with that documentation, how will you provide the documentation to properly satisfy the court that you have met and can perform each JPR to their satisfaction.

This class will provide you with the check sheets, and photographic evidence, that each attendee was able to complete the JPR's as listed in the document.
