THREE + SIX

This classic quilt block pattern is just a handy reference guide in case you wanted to make your own “matching” Personality Quiz Quilt Block (of course, I won’t tell if it’s not actually your “match”!).

NOTES

- Skill Level Beginner
- Finished Size 12 x 12”
- Seam Allowance All cutting instructions have a ¼” seam allowance factored in
- Yardage/WOF Width of fabric (WOF) is assumed to be 42”
- HST Method Yardage is calculated based on making 4 half square triangles (HST) at a time; instructions for how to do so are on page 2

ELEGANT, FOCUSED,
GRACEFUL & PRACTICAL

BASIC REQUIREMENTS

	Fabric Requirements	Cutting Requirements
 Fabric A	Fat Eighth	7¼ x 7¼” (2)*
 Fabric B	¼ yd. or FQ	4½ x 4½” (3) 7¼ x 7¼” (2)*

if you prefer to use the two-HST-at-a-time method, you’ll need three 5½ x 5½” squares of each fabric to make the HSTs*

BLOCK ASSEMBLY

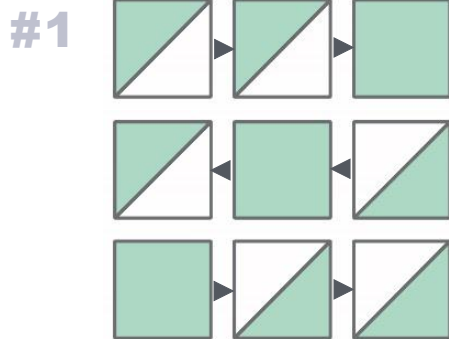

HIT THE ACCELERATOR

Never made four HSTs at a time? Don't worry, it's easy! Instead of cutting out individual triangles (groan!), or sewing $\frac{1}{4}$ " seams down either side of a diagonal (smaller groan), all you need to do is sew a square of Fabric A to a square of Fabric B (right sides together) with a $\frac{1}{4}$ " seam around the border. Then cut corner to corner (see illustration to the right). And presto: 4 HSTs!

Sew two $7\frac{1}{4}$ " square sandwiches of Fabric A and Fabric B to make the 6 HSTs* needed. Cut corner to corner, press, and then trim HSTs to $4\frac{1}{2}$ ".

ASSEMBLY LINE

Assemble the rows (#1), then assemble the block (#2).

! WATCH OUT: this method creates bias edges, but all this means is that when pressing your seams, truly press, don't iron back and forth (this will minimize the pulling of the fabric + keep the HSTs from becoming wonky).

*Using the 4-at-a-time method, you'll have 2 HSTs left over: perfect for a sachet, beanbag, or pin cushion!

GET SOCIAL!

I love to see your work! Make sure to post your finished quilt block to Instagram and tag it with #WhichQuiltBlockAreYou and @broadclothstudio (because I don't want to miss it!)
