

FOOD & WINE

HELLO SUMMER

JUNE 2020

FOODANDWINE.COM $6.99

PINCH YOURSELF! THIS LOBSTER BLT IS CLAWS FOR CELEBRATION! P. 88

EDITORS' PICKS

Keepers of the Flame

Pro-quality cooking tools for the great outdoors

THIS SUMMER, my go-to party trick is showing up with the Fireflower. This flat-pack portable firepit comes together in seconds, thanks to the genius of architect and designer David Grisham. Simply slide the notched pieces together and voilà! It's the perfect foundation for a campfire, whether you plan to roast marshmallows or just keep warm after enjoying a sunset on the beach. The pit can even turn into a full-on grill thanks to a grate that conveniently fits into the assembled base. (From $199, fireflower-usa.com) —MARY-FRANCES HECK

BACKYARD UPGRADES

ESPRESSO SET

Don't let cooking out keep you from a good cup of joe. GSI's stainless steel Mini Espresso Set takes seconds to assemble and makes a strong cup of coffee in less than three minutes over your chosen heat source—grill, camp stove, or (when you're not roughing it) stovetop. ($50, gsioutdoors.com)

HERO GRILL

With its grab-and-go case and biodegradable charcoal pod, the laptop-size Hero Grill is smartly designed to deliver 60 minutes of grilling action, perfect for picnics, camping, and tailgating. Meat and matches not included. ($100, fireandflavor.com)

KOJIN GRILL

Lightweight and versatile, Snow Peak's Kojin Grill has an adjustable charcoal tray and grilling rack that makes it ideal for direct-heat cooking, smoking, and roasting on your next adventure. ($730, snowpeak.com)

—JOSH MILLER