Why Letters and Sounds?

This book includes quick, engaging activities that will help your child learn the letters and their sounds, skills children need for school success. While these activities may seem simplistic, their mastery is essential. Repetition is key but remember to have fun!

SKILLS

- Visual discrimination
- Matching
- Letter identification
- Phonemic awareness
- Phonics
- Letter/sound knowledge
- Vocabulary development

HOW YOU CAN HELP SUPPORT LEARNING

- Work with your child in a quiet, calm setting.
- Complete some activities together.
- Write letters on sticky notes, and have your child match them to objects inside the house. For example, place the letter D on a door.
- Place magnetic letters on the refrigerator for your child to practice letter names, letter sounds, and word formation.

Sing “The Alphabet Song” to help you remember the order of the letters.
