

SPACETALK

SPACETALK has been specifically developed to keep children safe and secure while keeping busy families connected.

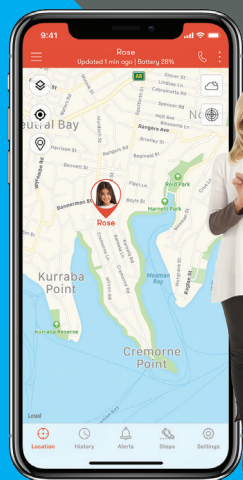

SPACETALK is a self-contained mobile phone in a smartwatch, designed specifically for young children and has no dangerous access to social media or open access to the internet.

When paired with the AllMyTribe guardian app that parents download to their smartphone, parents can monitor their child's location, set up safe zones, contact lists and receive a variety of alert notifications.

A school friendly device, SPACETALK has no camera, no microphone recording, no parental eavesdropping mode and when in School Mode, SPACETALK is distraction free.
