Find your fit

A few things to consider when choosing your chair:

Storage. If you want to tuck the seat away when not in use, look for a model with a compact or flat fold.

Size. If you're short on space, a smaller model might be your best bet.

Table use. Some moms prefer a chair that can be pulled right up to the family table.

Cleanup. Can the chair be wiped down with ease? Is the seat pad machine washable?

Tray. Weigh options like a removable tray liner, one-handed release and dishwasher safety.

Adjustability. A reclining seat and adjustable footrest are nice perks.

Life span. Many highchairs can convert to boosters or "big kid" chairs later on.

Best seat in the house

Whether you opt for a rocker or glider, choose a chair you're sure to love.

Between feeding, reading and snuggle sessions, you're bound to clock some substantial time sitting in the nursery. To pick a seat that's sure to satisfy long-term, Ralph Montemarco, CEO, founder and head of design of Monte, a modern nursery furniture company (montadesign.net), suggests asking these questions when considering candidates.

- 1 Does the quality meet your expectations? Are you looking for a chair that is built to last or something more temporary?
- 2 Does it meet your desire for comfort? Bear in mind a super cushiony chair does not necessarily mean it will be the most supportive over a longer period of time.
- 3 How easy is the fabric to clean? Spills and spit-up are inevitable with a baby in the picture.
- 4 Does the chair match your design aesthetic? Do you want a colorful seat that pops or a more neutral style that blends in?
- 5 Will the chair stay in the nursery or move to another room in your home as baby grows?

Make sure your feet can reach the floor or ottoman when sitting all the way back in the chair to allow for proper posture.

Tot moderne

This married design team shares their favorite items for a modern-inspired nursery

"Decorative items should be well-designed and simple; a solid bright color works well." Vitra Eames Elephant in Classic Red, Charles and Ray Eames, 1945, $290, vitra.com for stores.

"On the walls, I like something whimsical with bold graphics—something that appeals to both baby and mom and dad." Danese Milano Screenprint "Due, La Pera," Enzo Mari, 1963, $290, nevalfi.com

"A very comfortable glider is essential for all the feeding, cuddling, and reading you'll be doing with your new baby." Grano Glider Recliner, $995, montedesign.net

"Baby stuff" accumulates quickly; a moveable toy chest is perfect to corral all of baby's new toys." Fiji Toy Box in Ebony, $349, arlington.com

"We always included soft lighting to keep baby asleep during nighttime feedings." Tooli Nightlight Lamp, $75, giggle.com

"A quality crib with clean lines puts the modern nursery together." Netto Collection Modern Crib, $1690, nettocollection.com

"All our children love books they can manipulate, and this retro choice is a family fave." Pat the Bunny, by Dorothy Kunhardt, $10, amazon.com

After Ralph and Michelle Montemurro

Moved their four young children into a newly built home and noticed a serious lack of durable, stylish kids furniture, they saw opportunity. Using their sportswear-design backgrounds, the Montemurros created a modern family furniture collection that's sustainably sourced and built the old-fashioned way by experienced craftspeople in Toronto, Ontario, where Monte Design is based.

- Solid maple base with clear finish
- Small 19"x19" footprint
- Available in 2 color options

Recommended for children from 6 months to 4 years

From a parent's perspective: "We use the tavo daily and love it—our little one gets so excited when we sit her down on the ultra plush seat. Its design is simple and modern, which is exactly what I was looking for—it blends with our furniture instead of sticking out like a multicolored sore thumb. Plus, it's easy to wipe down since there's nowhere for a mess to hide, which is awesome. Oh, and it came fully assembled—major brownie points!"

18 poundsFEATURES:

- Removable, portable basket
- Waterproof mattress
- Removable, machine washable suede microfiber cover
- Solid birch base
- 2 fitted sheets

A PARENT'S PERSPECTIVE:

"I am in love with the look of this bassinet. It's clean, smooth and understated with beautiful dark wood and stone microfiber that would look grand in any room of the house, with any dcor (perfect for showing baby off when visitors stop by). It's also simple to use—setup was quick and straightforward, and the removable cover and sheets mean it's easy to clean. The construction is very sturdy and the basket is larger than I thought it would be, but it's not overly heavy. I can easily create a gentle rocking motion by tipping my hand or tapping my foot. I'll be sad to retire this bassinet once baby is rolling over ... maybe I'll use it as my toddler's doll bed just for an excuse to keep it around!"

Bonus:
This bassinet

ROCK CANDY

For many newborns, bonding begins with a great glider—and mom, of course

Besides all the major gear—crib, stroller, changing table—many advice-givers insist, "You have to get a glider!" And that just may be true, depending on your personality. If you're the type who's on the go 24/7 without taking time out to sit down and breathe, a glider could be a crucial bonding space for you and your baby. Newborns should be nursed or bottle fed in a quiet place with soft lighting where they have your full attention and maximum eye contact. A special chair that's all yours is a great way to ensure baby gets enough of what she really wants—you.

TIP: For upholstered chairs, a spot-cleanable fabric such as stain-resistant cotton is best.

Monte Design Luca Glider in Stone with Brown Piping is as functional as it is beautiful. Ergonomically designed arms, proper back height, and a removable lumbar pillow make this chair an investment in personal comfort. ottoman $385, glider $695, montedesigns.com
