Mario Ruiz

Un guiño al ADN de la casa

Mario Ruiz ha partido de un profundo análisis de la historia de POINT y de sus diseños más emblemáticos para desarrollar su primera colección para la firma. En su colección Heritage, toma como referencia el famoso trenzado artesanal de la marca alicantina. También adapta materiales y formatos tradicionales a lenguajes más actuales, fluidos y soft. «Tengo una imagen de los artesanos en los años 20, en Alicante, trabajando el mimbre y creando los primeros muebles de POINT. Aquí nace su alma. Hoy, sigue siendo inspirador», señala el diseñador.

La colección rememora la elaboración y tipologías de las piezas icónicas desde dos propuestas: Heritage Lineal y Heritage Contour, dos diseños que se pueden combinar entre sí. Mientras Heritage Lineal tiene un estilo más conservador, con formas rectas y geometrías equilibradas, el diseño de Heritage Contour apuesta por una silueta más suave y orgánica para construir una figura armoniosa pero más informal. Todas las piezas están fabricadas sobre una estructura de aluminio y tejidas con cuerpo exterior de fibra técnica. Las dos líneas de la colección se expresan en múltiples versiones de sofás, butacas, sillas, taburetes, mesas auxiliares, mesas de comedor, tumbonas y daybeds.

A nod to the company's DNA

Mario Ruiz based his first collections on an in-depth analysis of POINT's history and its most emblematic designs. In his Heritage collection, he takes the brand's famous hand weaving as a reference. He also adapts traditional materials and formats to softer, more modern and fluid languages. "I have an image of the artisans in the 1920s in Alicante working with wicker and creating POINT's first furniture. That's where its soul was born. Even today, it's still inspiring," says the designer.

The collection recreates the production and styles of these iconic pieces through two proposals: Heritage Lineal and Heritage Contour, two designs that can be combined with each other. While Heritage Lineal has a more conservative style, with straight shapes and balanced geometries, the design of Heritage Contour adopts a softer and more organic silhouette to create a harmonious but more informal piece. All the pieces are made from an aluminium frame with a woven technical fibre outer body. The two lines of the collection are expressed in multiple versions of sofas, armchairs, chairs, stools, side tables, dining tables, sun loungers and daybeds.
