

Velo Orange Flat Pack Rack Strap

This is a nylon strap that is designed to act as a safety measure to prevent the rack from falling forward should something dislodge your rack while riding. If you choose to set up your rack with the tombstone backstop, loop the strap through the tombstone loop, up around the stem, and back again. If you install the decaleur, follow the same process, but loop the strap under the crossbeam between the decaleur receiver mounts. Then thread the strap back through the buckle, tighten, and ride!

Please note that the buckle must be flat and NOT on a curve for everything to tighten correctly.

We recommend the use of this strap on all versions of the Flat Pack Rack, and for reference, below is an image of the strap installed on a Flat Pack Rack. If your cockpit setup does not allow the strap to go over your stem, you can also put the strap next to the stem on your handlebars.
