INSPIRING CHANGE IN THE WAY WE EAT ON A DAILY BASIS.

In 2017, I started Jamie's Farm because I wanted to create a better granola while building a stronger community. Inspired by my time working at a 3 Michelin star restaurant in high school, I often cooked for friends and family, experimenting with various foods, including granola.

I continued to make granola in college, driving around the state of New York and sourcing 100% real ingredients from real people I knew: beekeepers, farmers, and local artisans. Granola quickly became my storytelling platform to foster creativity & connection, while benefiting the communities in which we live, our wellbeing, and our earth. I'm proud to say that 5 years later, we're continuing to share granolas with more people.

It took us years to hand-select each of our ingredients and to tweak our recipe to perfection. We worked hard to get to this point, and we continue to dedicate ourselves to crafting the best.

This holiday, our flavors reflect fun, whimsy, and of course, a sense of celebration & warmth. They make the perfect gift to others, but also for yourself—we invite you to slow down this season, find your new favorite bag of granola, and share with a loved one. Enjoy!
