START THE CONVERSATION

Mocha Books is more than a bookstore. It is a resource and a community. If you came here to avoid what is going on “out there” you came to the wrong place. It is my responsibility as a BLACK bookstore owner, mother, sister, aunt, niece, cousin, and educator of BLACK men (and women, young and old) that I attempt to put my feelings into words. However, all I seem to come up with is anger, disgust, sadness and anxiety.

What are you doing to start and/or continue the conversation of police brutality, racism and representation of Black and Brown bodies? How do you comfort and speak to the fragile minds of children who are lost and confused? What are you doing to take a stand?

Did you know that 80% of our inventory and a great deal of the work that we do is in partnership with indie authors? This platform was created not only for readers but to potentially increase visibility for authors who don’t get much exposure.
WHILE THE COUNTRY IS IN TURMOIL THERE IS JUST NO SURE WAY TO KNOW WHAT’S AHEAD. WHAT IS CERTAIN IS THAT MOCHA BOOKS WILL CONTINUE TO HOLD SPACE FOR WHATEVER IS NEEDED FROM OUR COMMUNITY.
