Made By Bees Colouring Book

Taking steps together to save our bees, the planet, and your food.

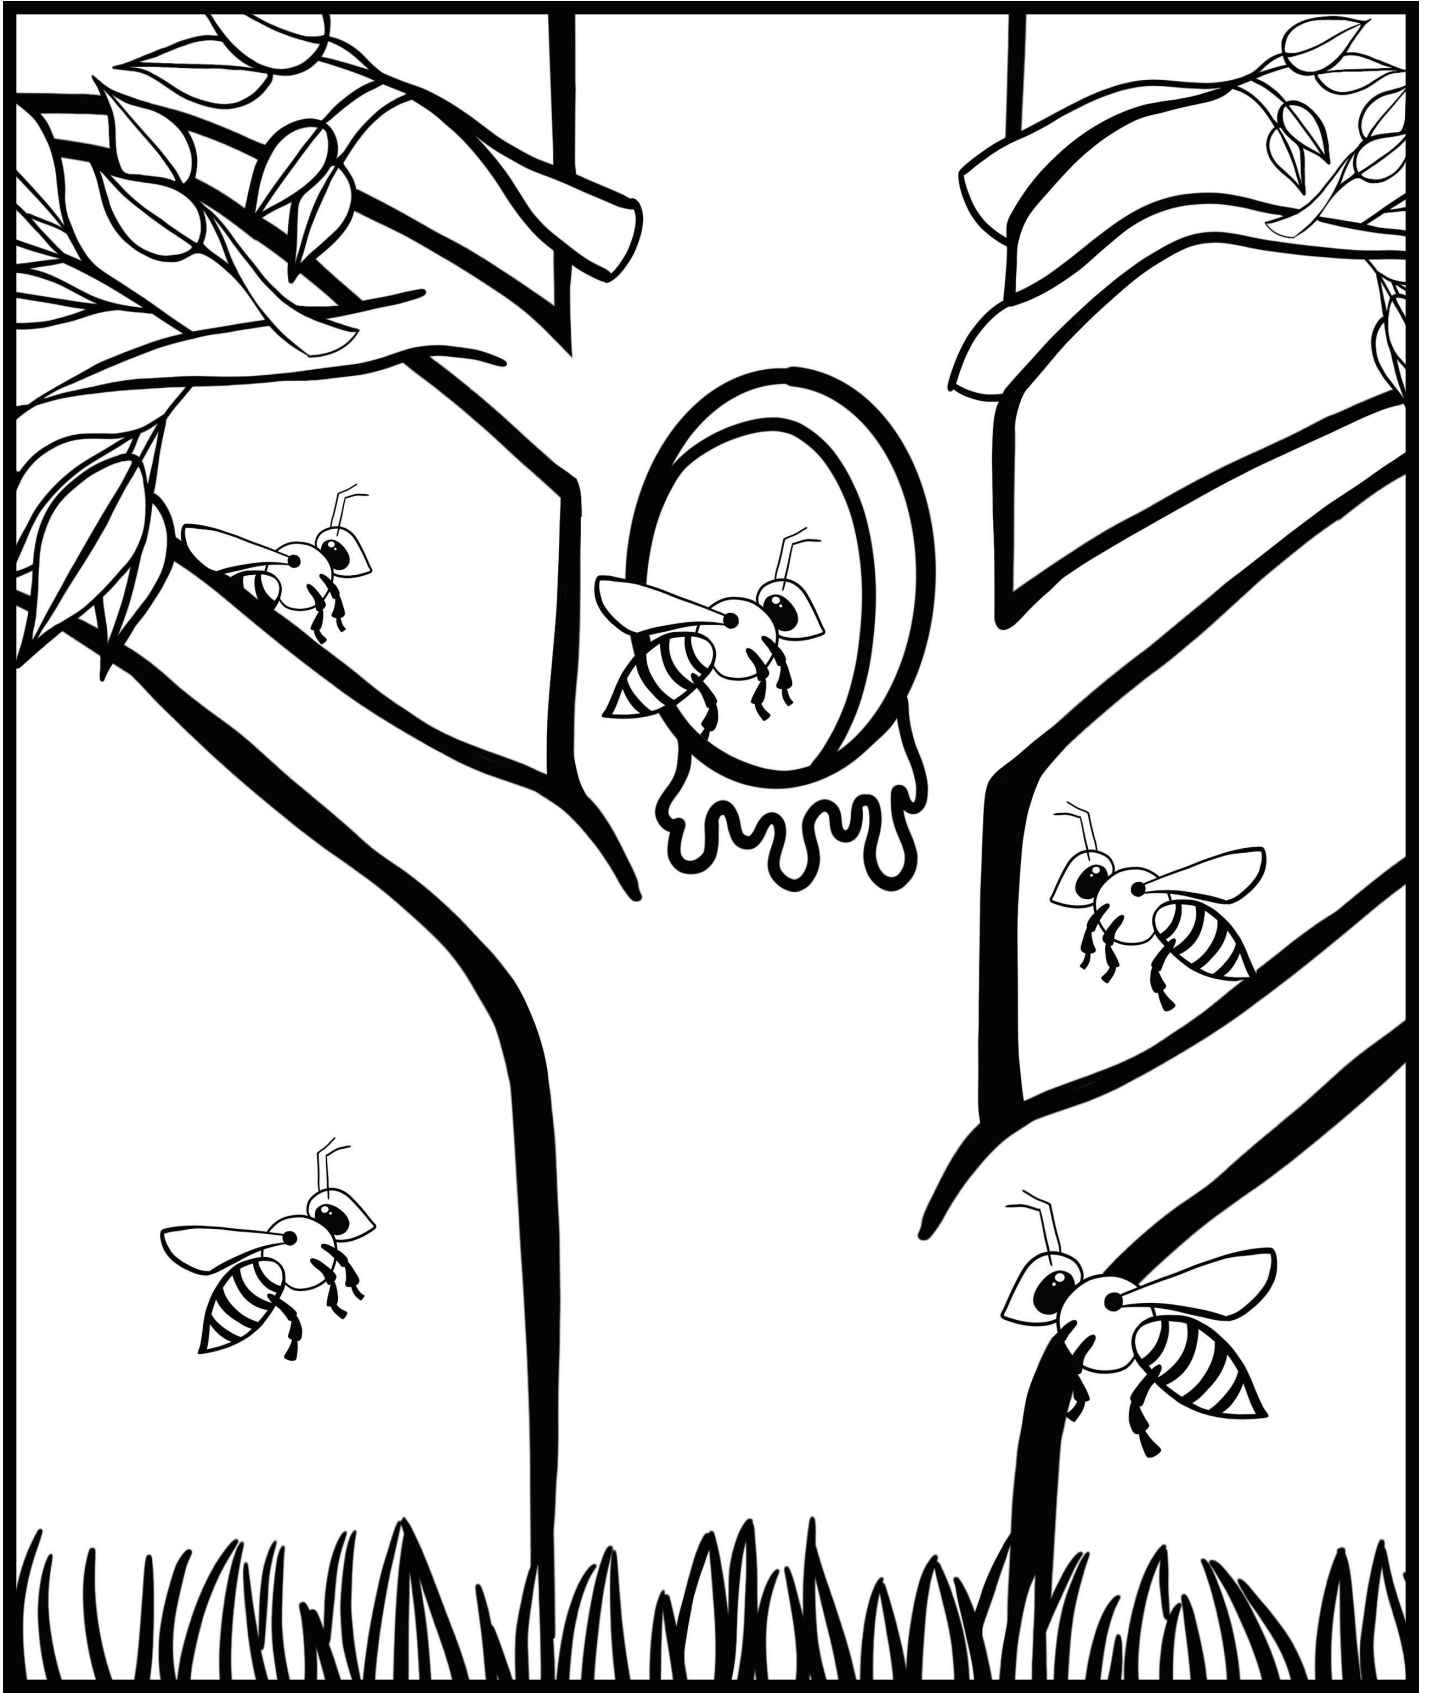

Live Simply.  Live Sustainably.

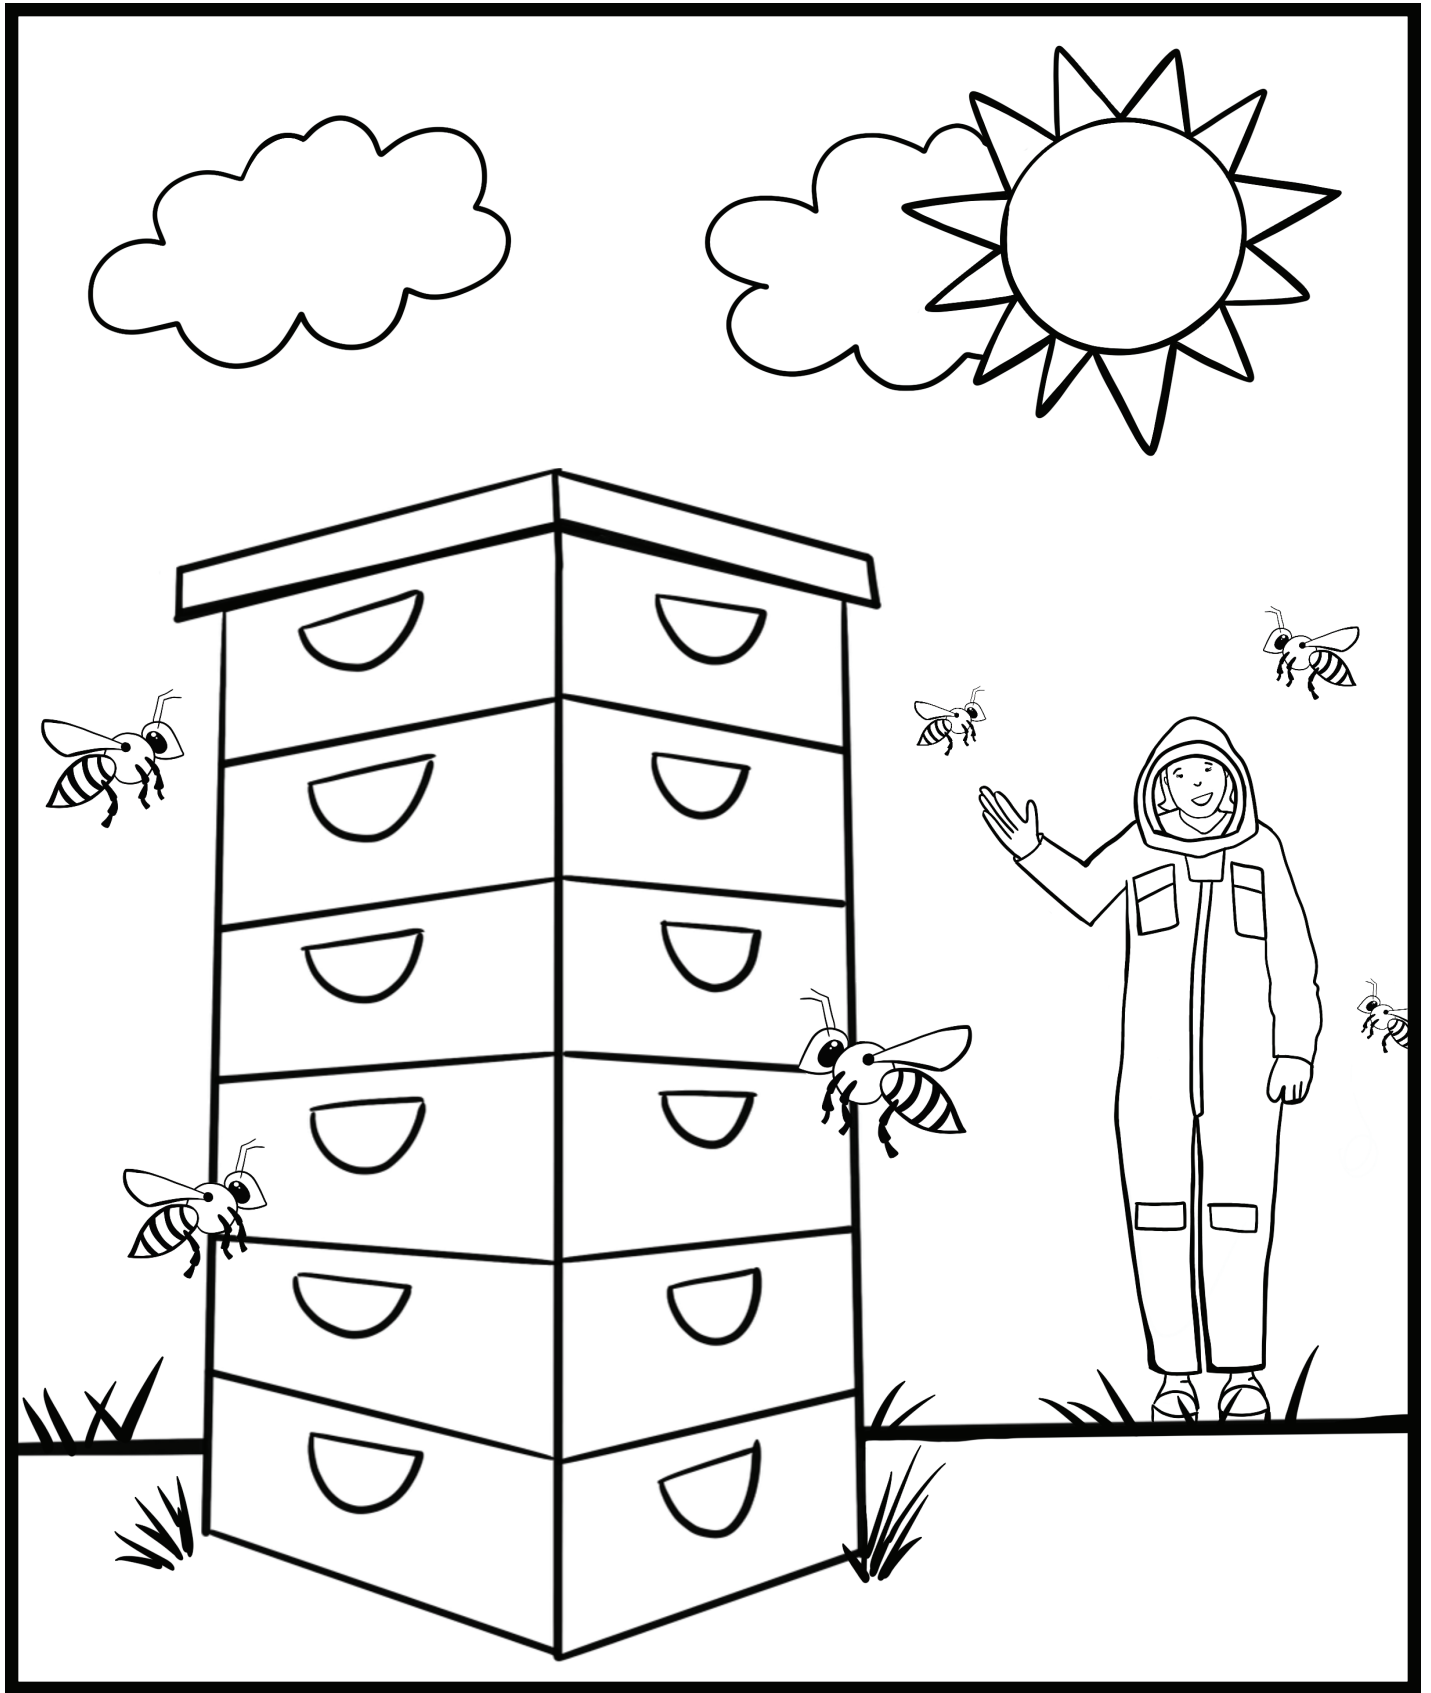

Blossom, sang the bee to the flowers
Burst, sighed the bee to the trees
Together, murmured the bee to another
Bzzz, whispered the bee to me

Thank you, I sang back to the flowers
Thank you, I sighed back to the trees
Thank you, I whispered back to the bee
For gifting this world so selflessly

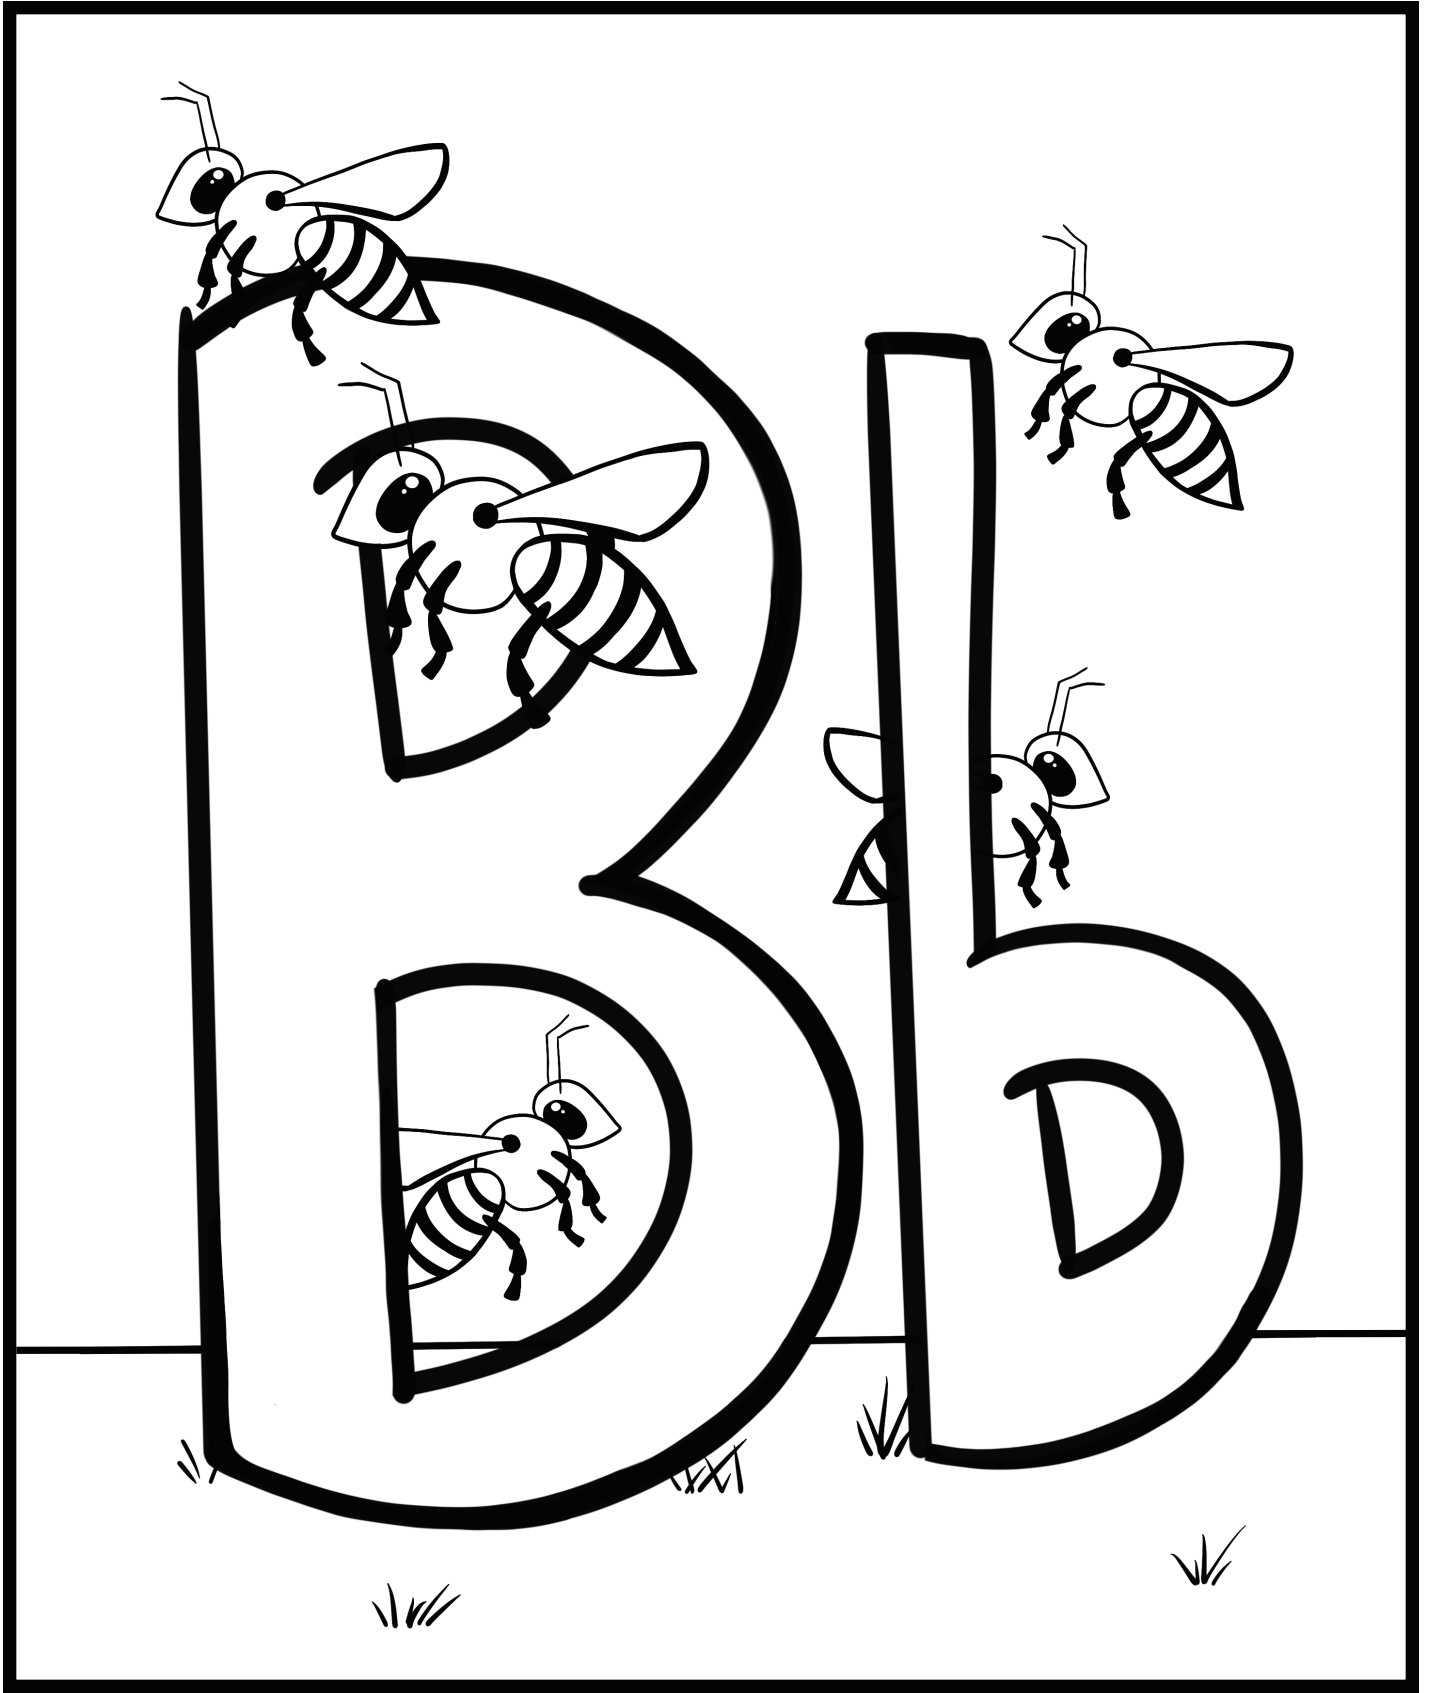

— Maude Lilford

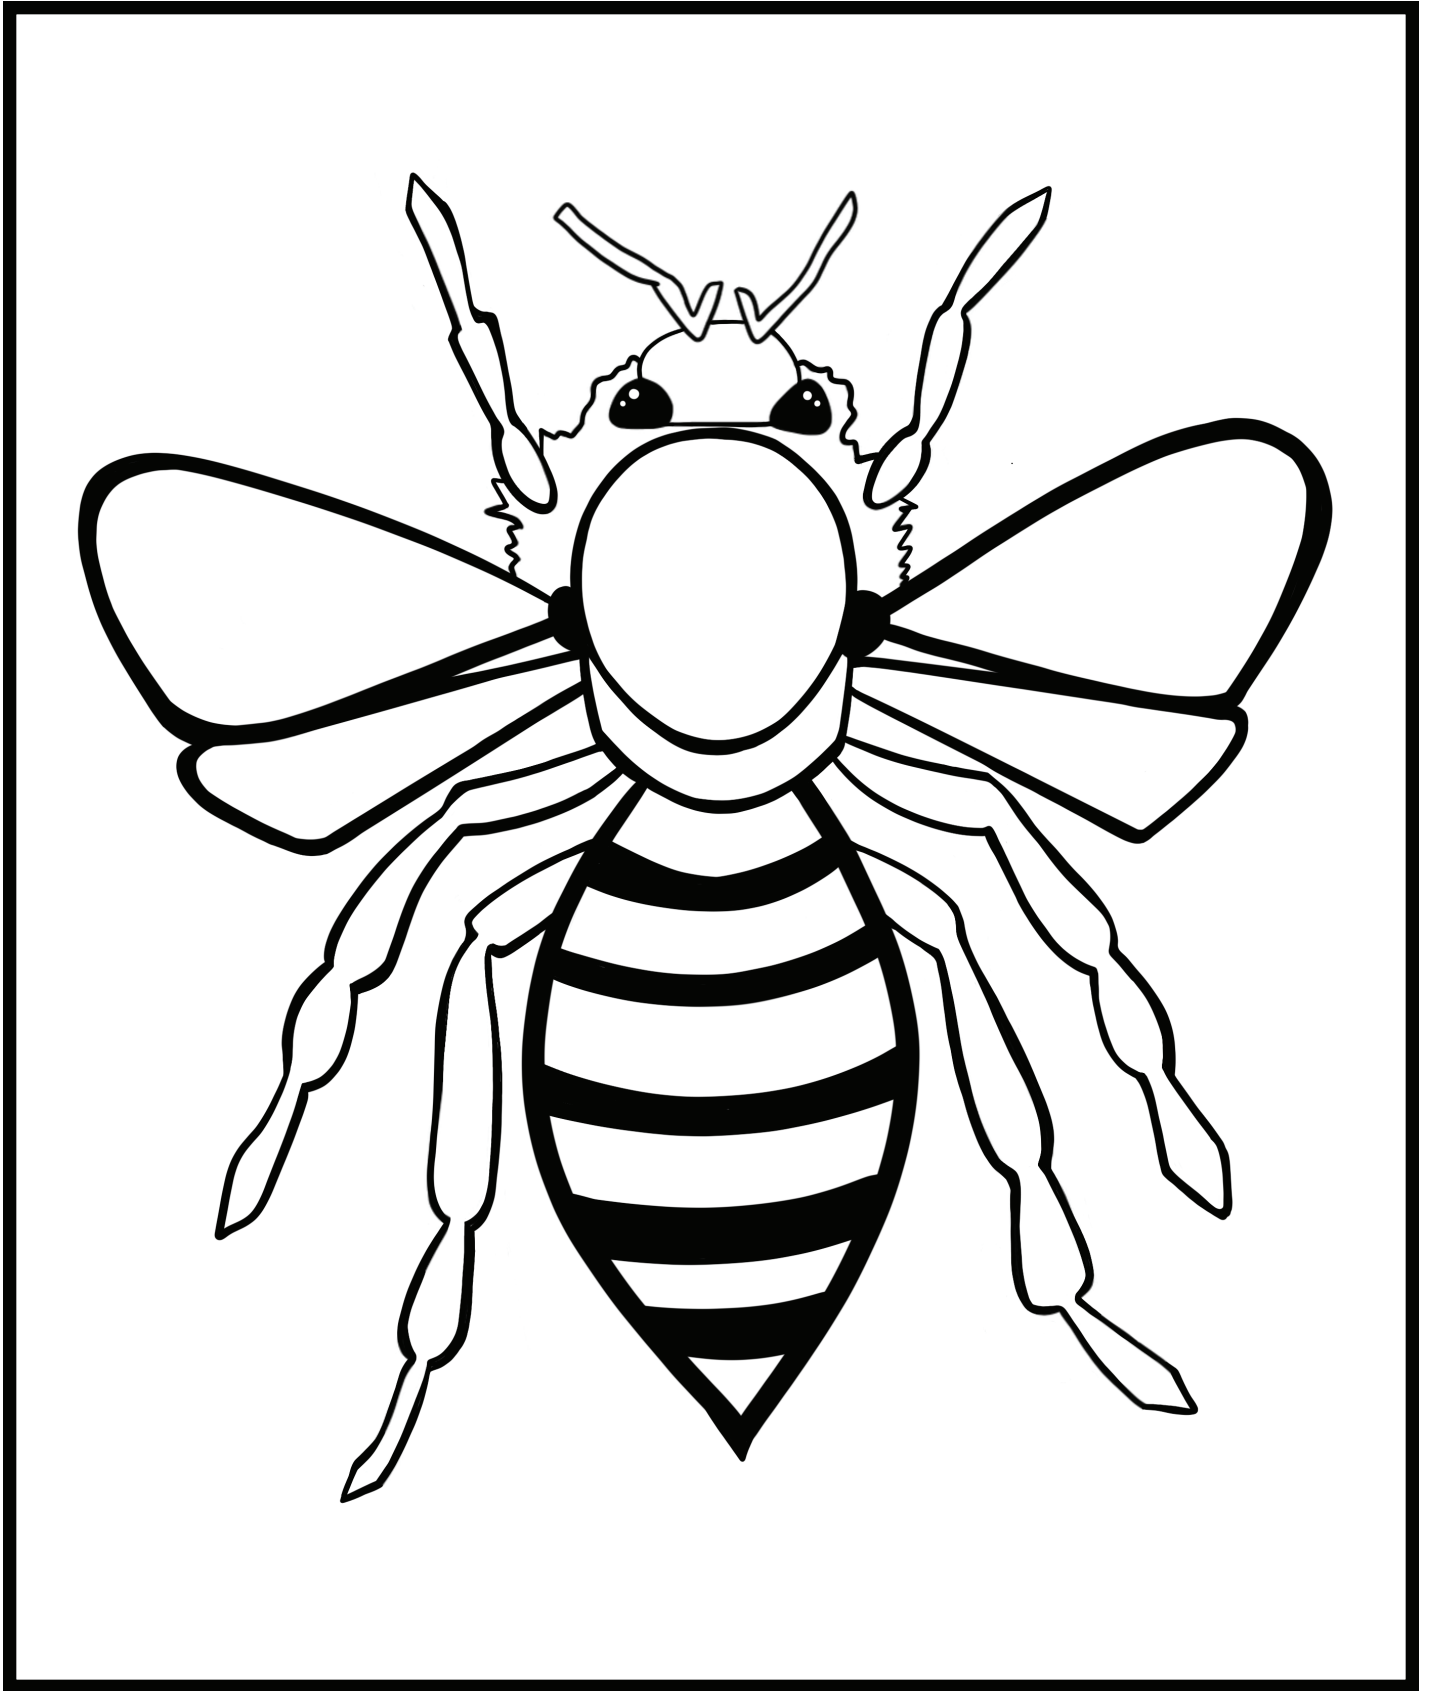

Where do honeybees live? In a hive!

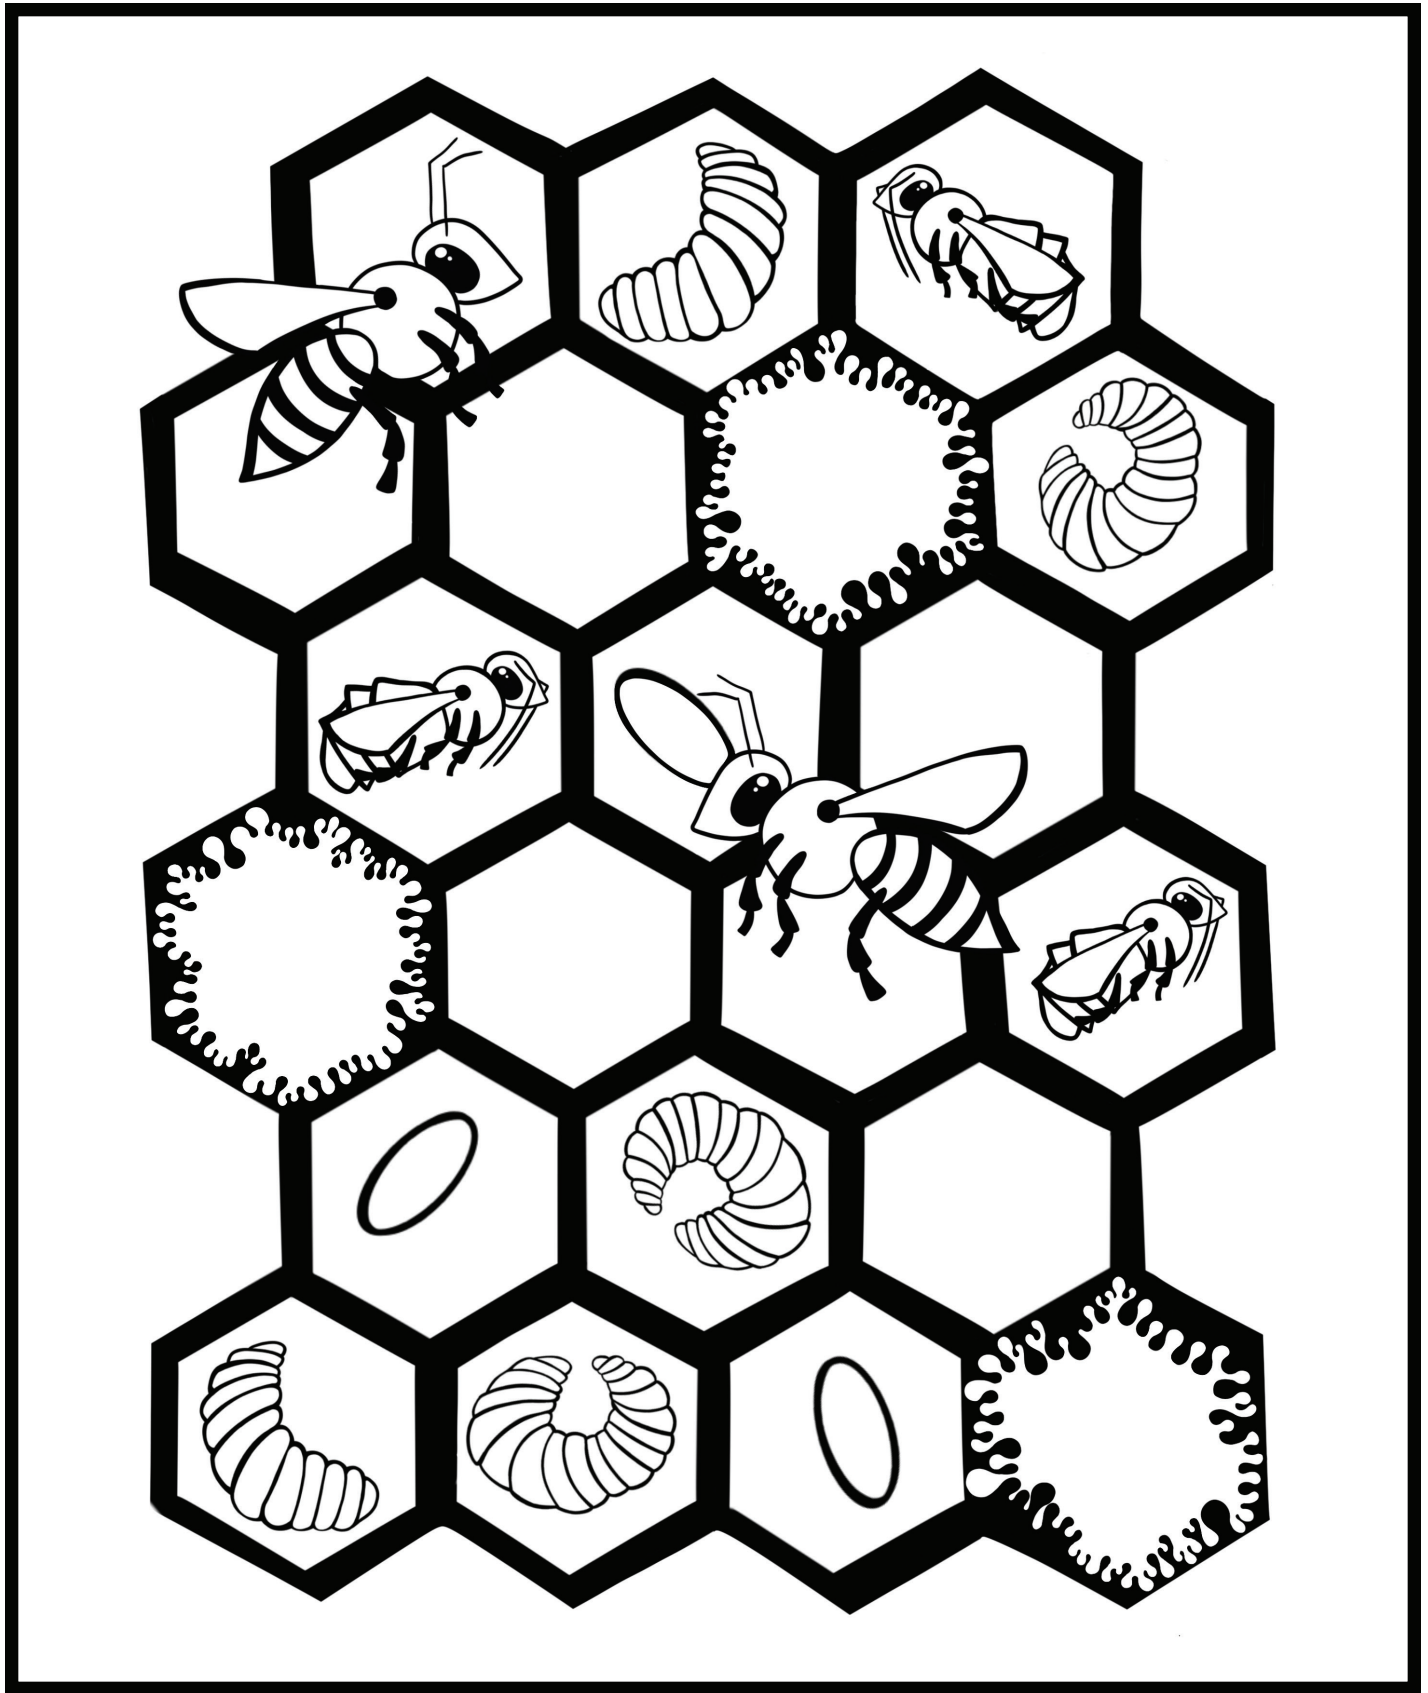

Beekeepers build special beehives for their bees.

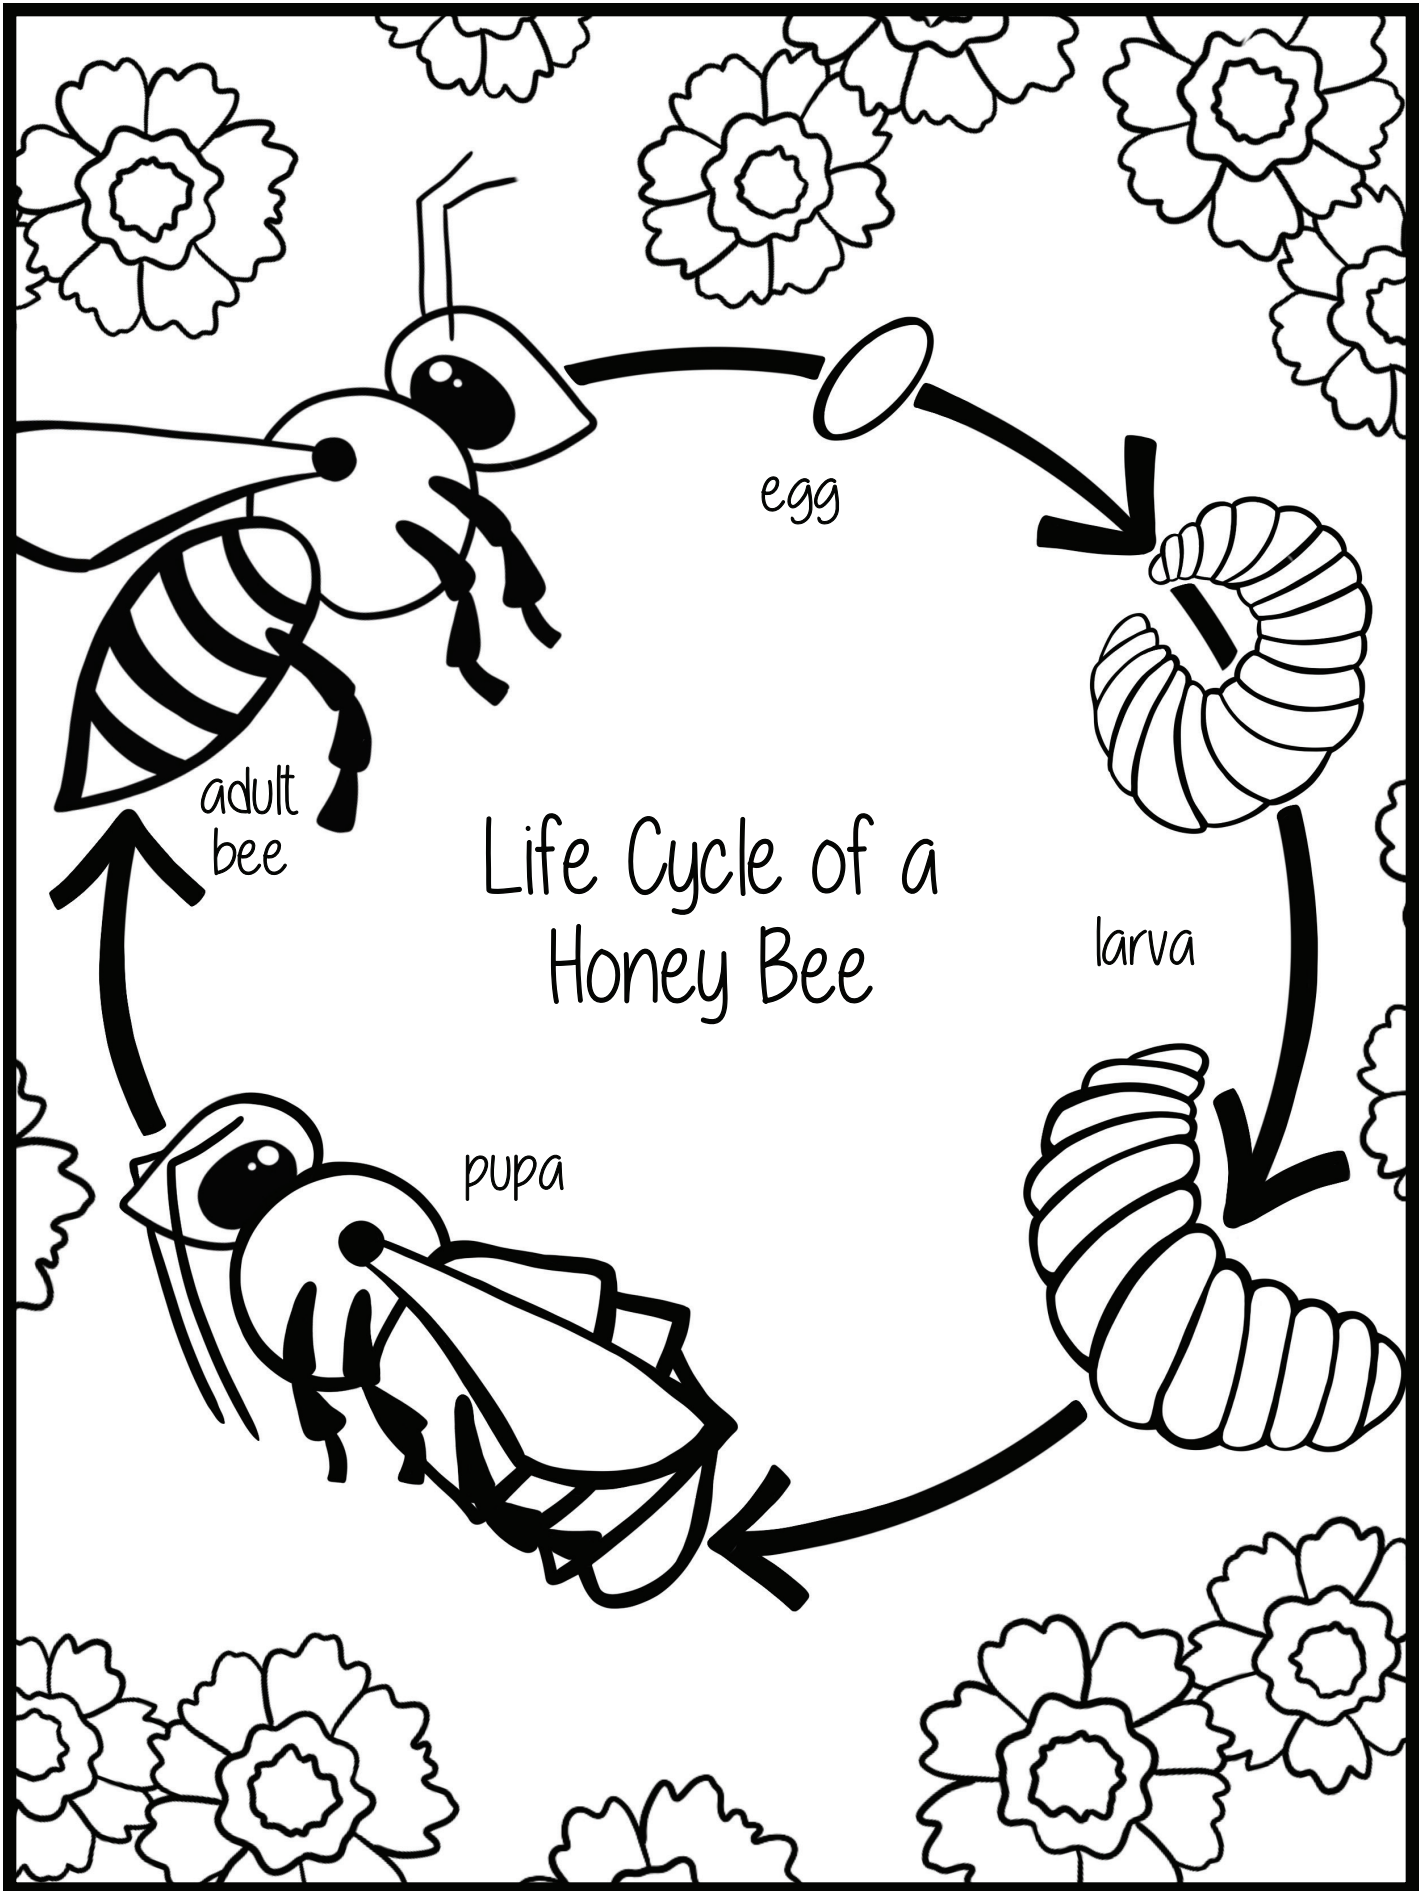

Bb is for bee.

Bees have six (6) legs and four (4) wings.

The inside of a beehive is made of beeswax hexagons called honeycomb. Worker bees build these cells to hold eggs and raise young bees, and to store their food.

Life Cycle of a Honey Bee

larva

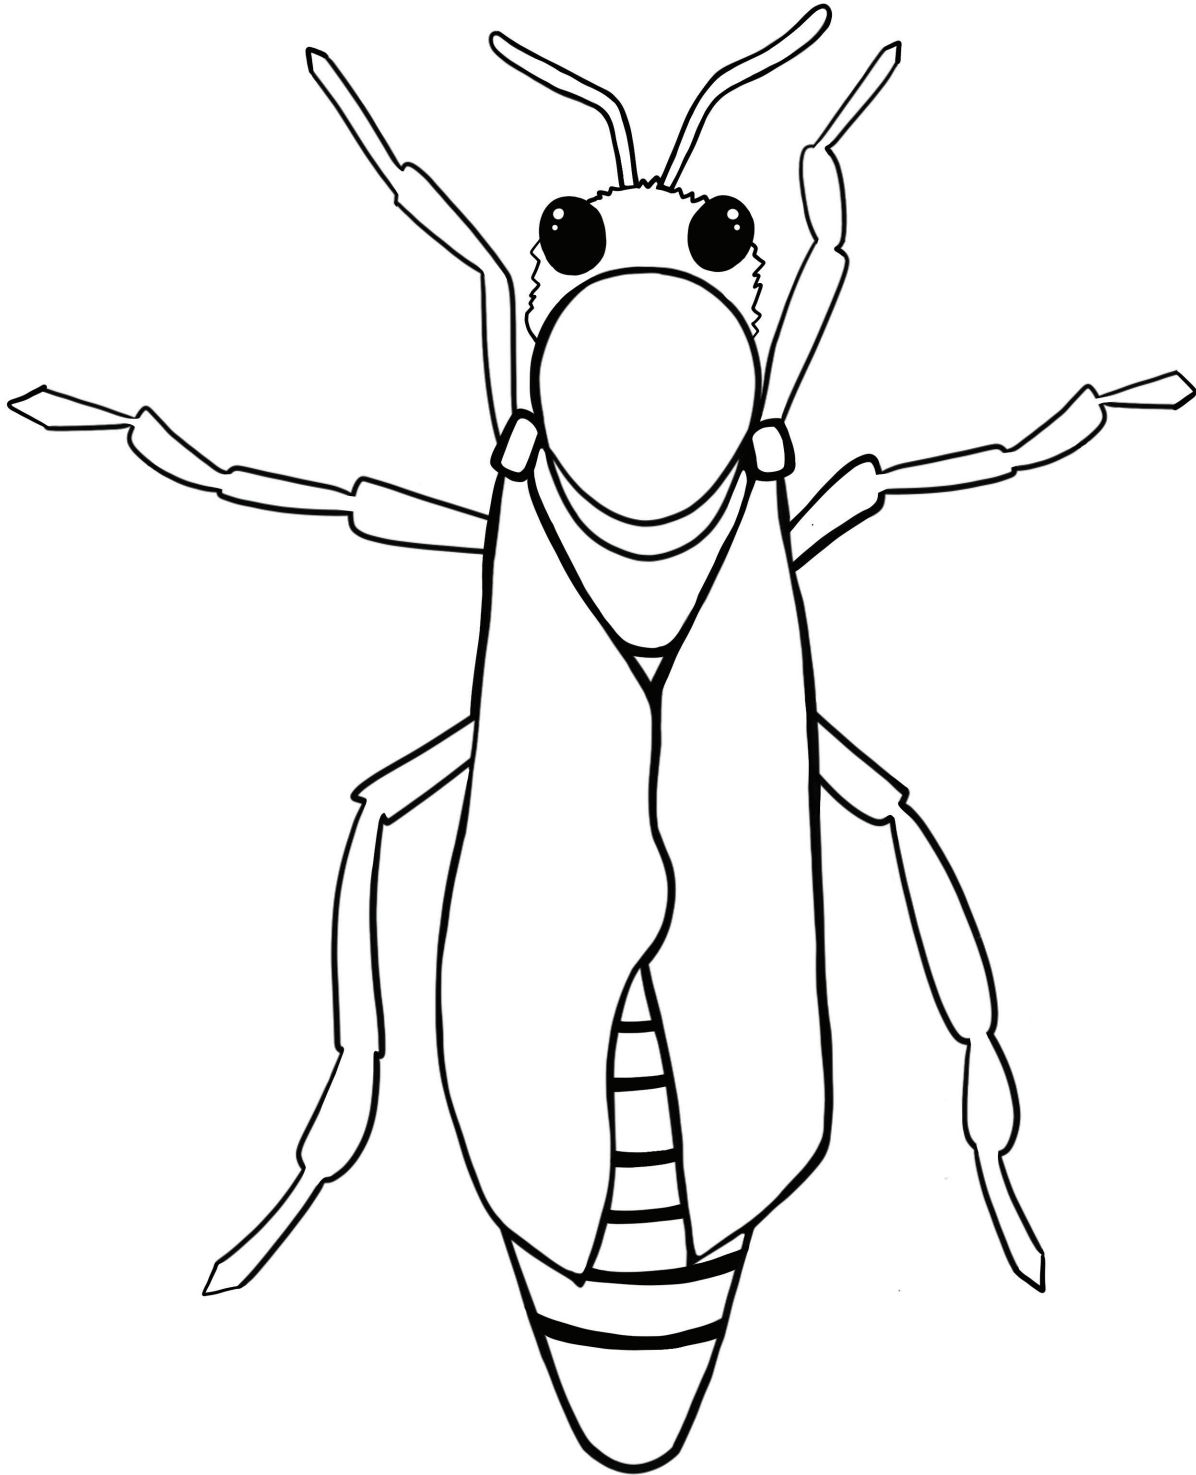

pupa

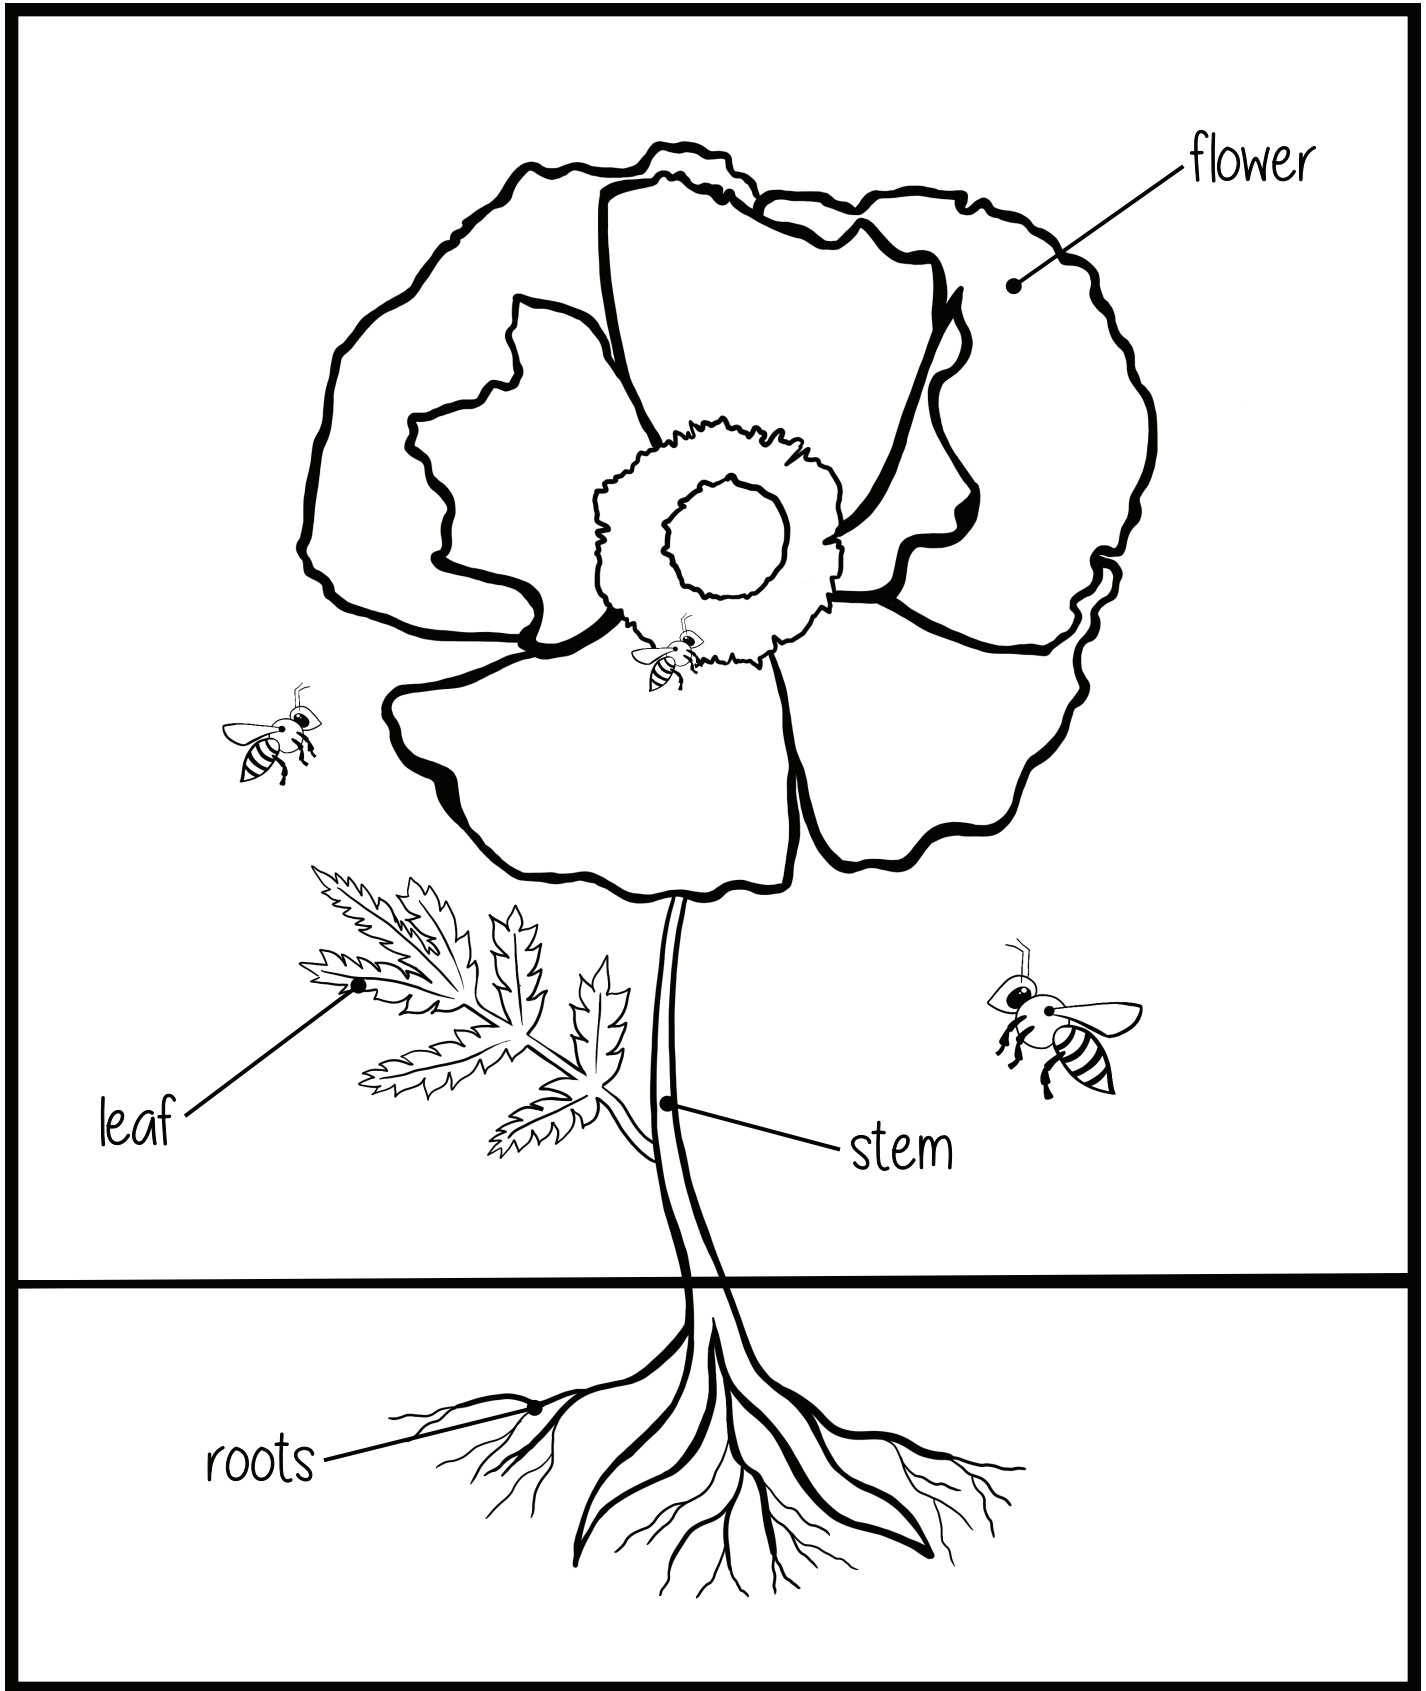

The worker bee builds the hive and keeps it clean. She takes care of the Queen Bee and feeds all of the young bees.

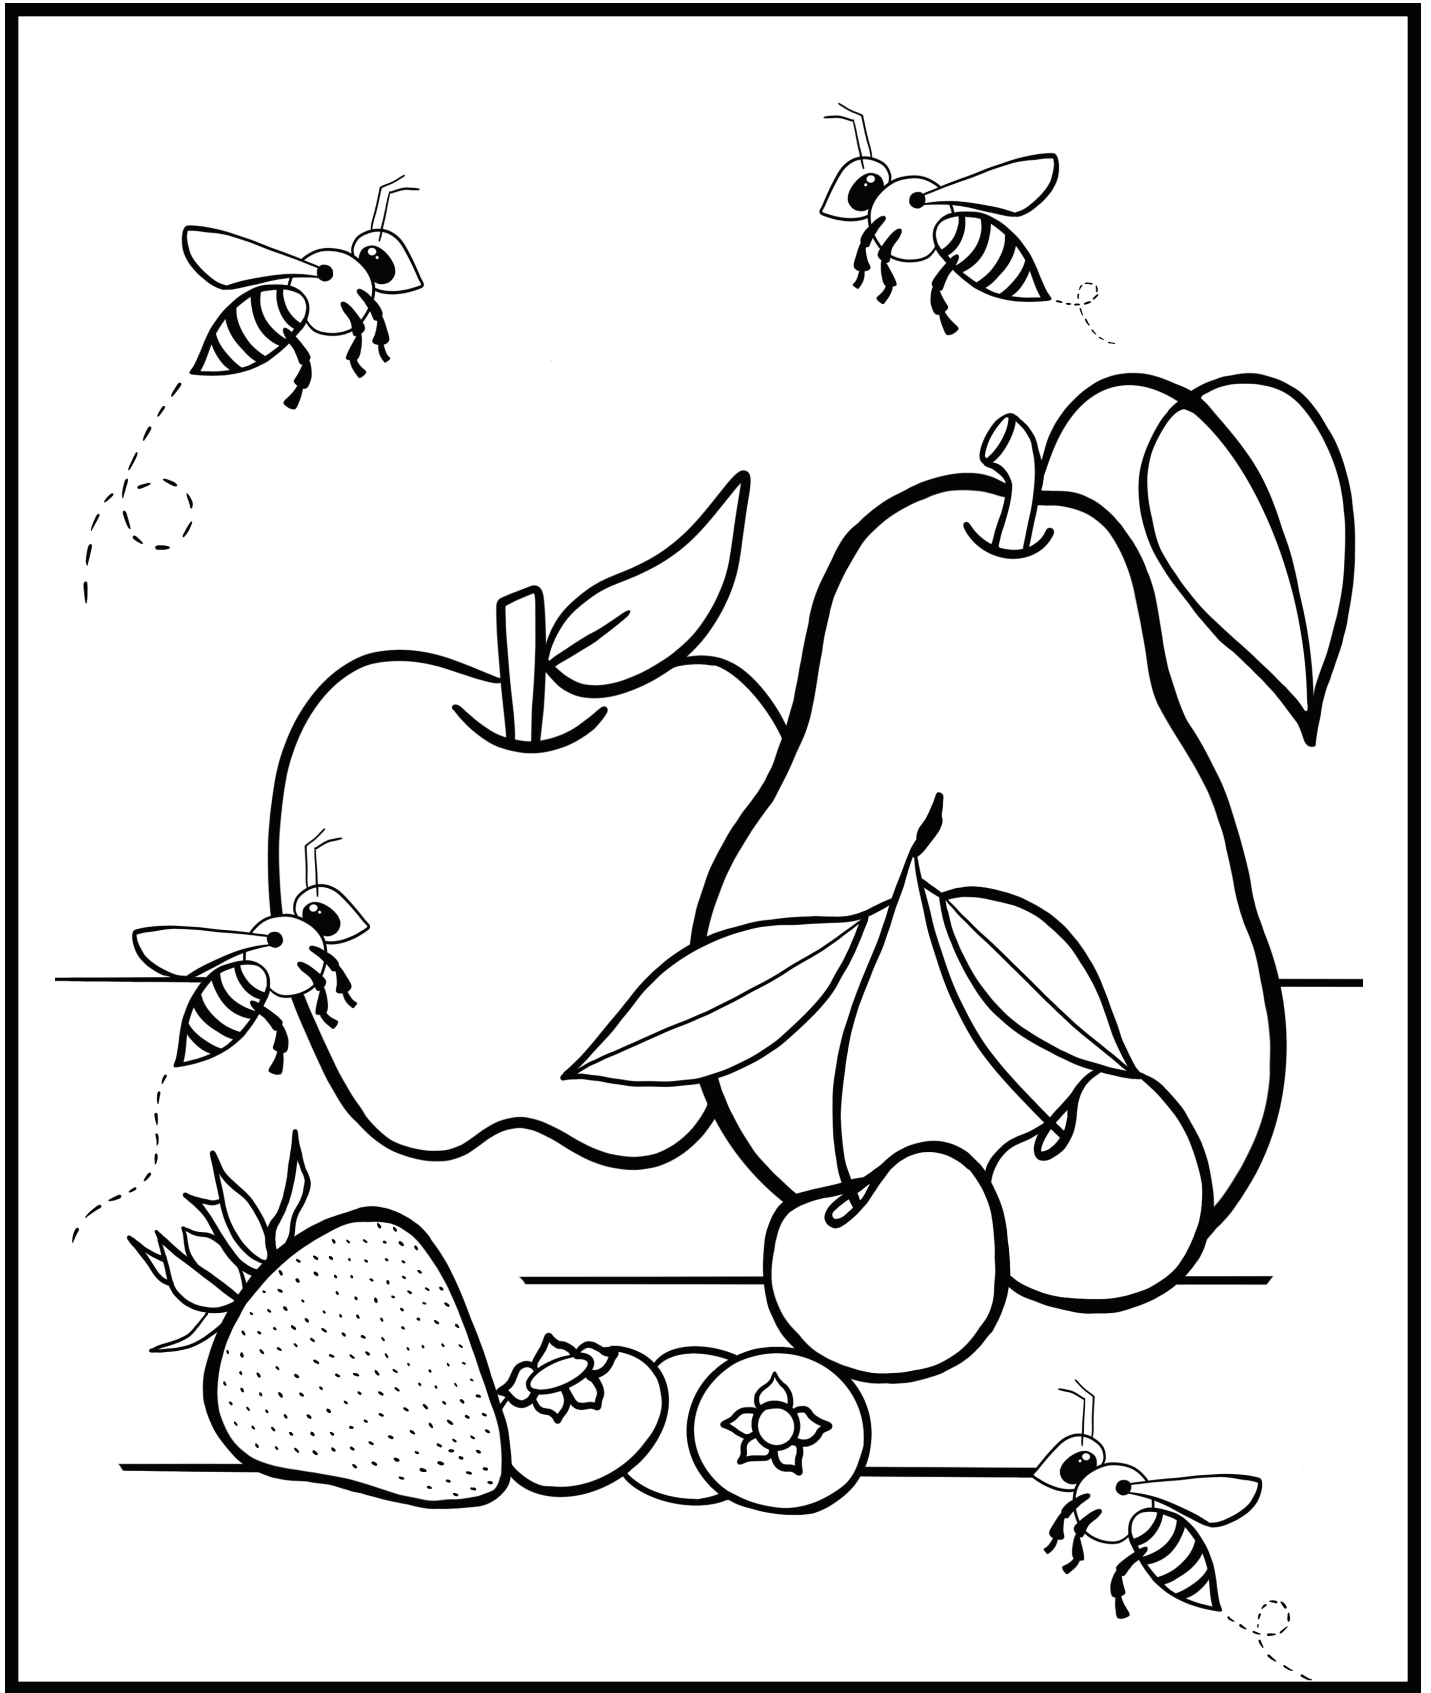

The drones are the only male bees in the hive.
They have big eyes for seeing the Queen Bee.

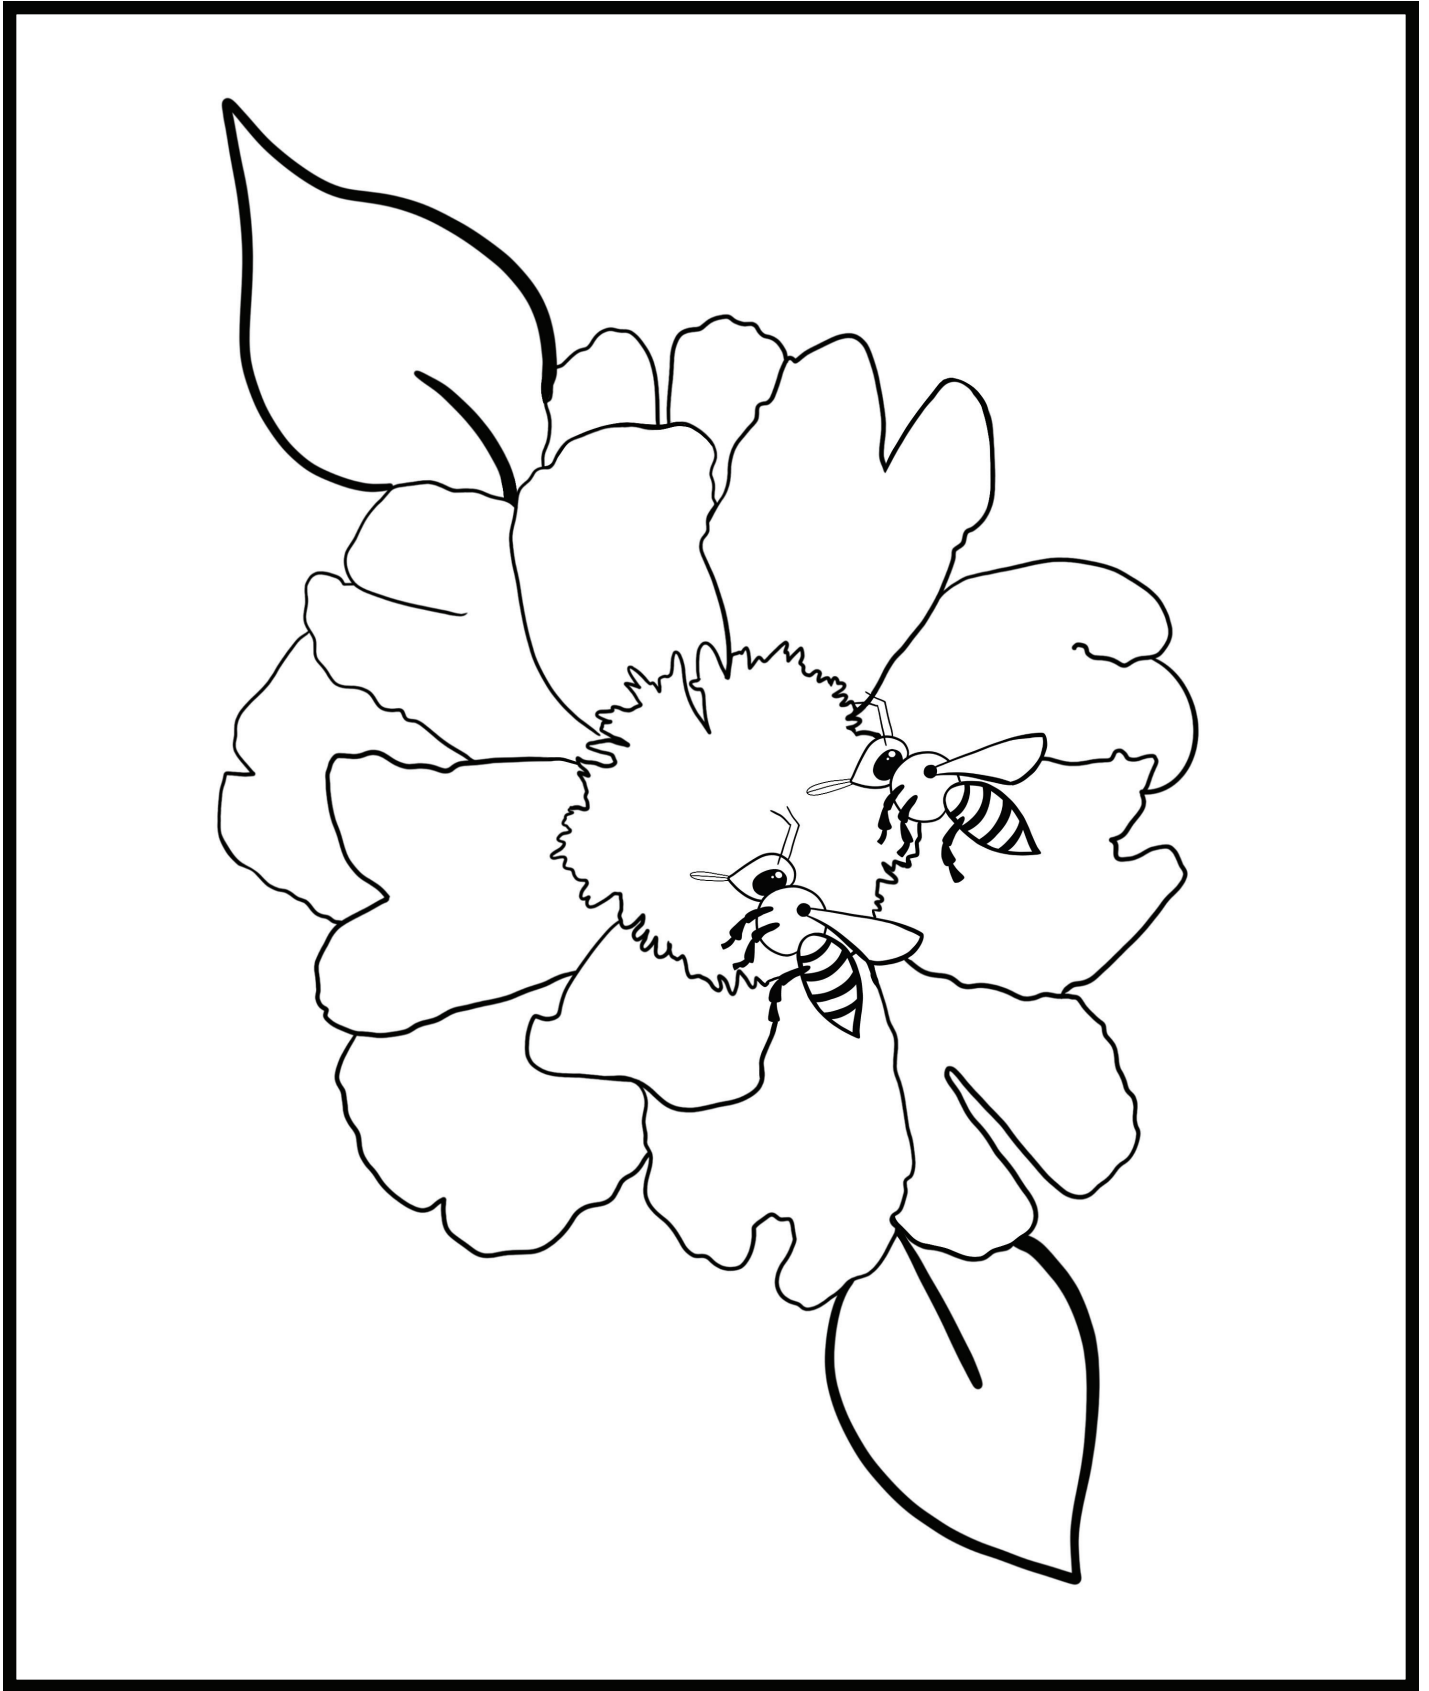

The Queen Bee lays all of the eggs and is the mother to all of the bees in the hive.

Bees are our friends! Help protect the bees at home by planting colourful flowers.

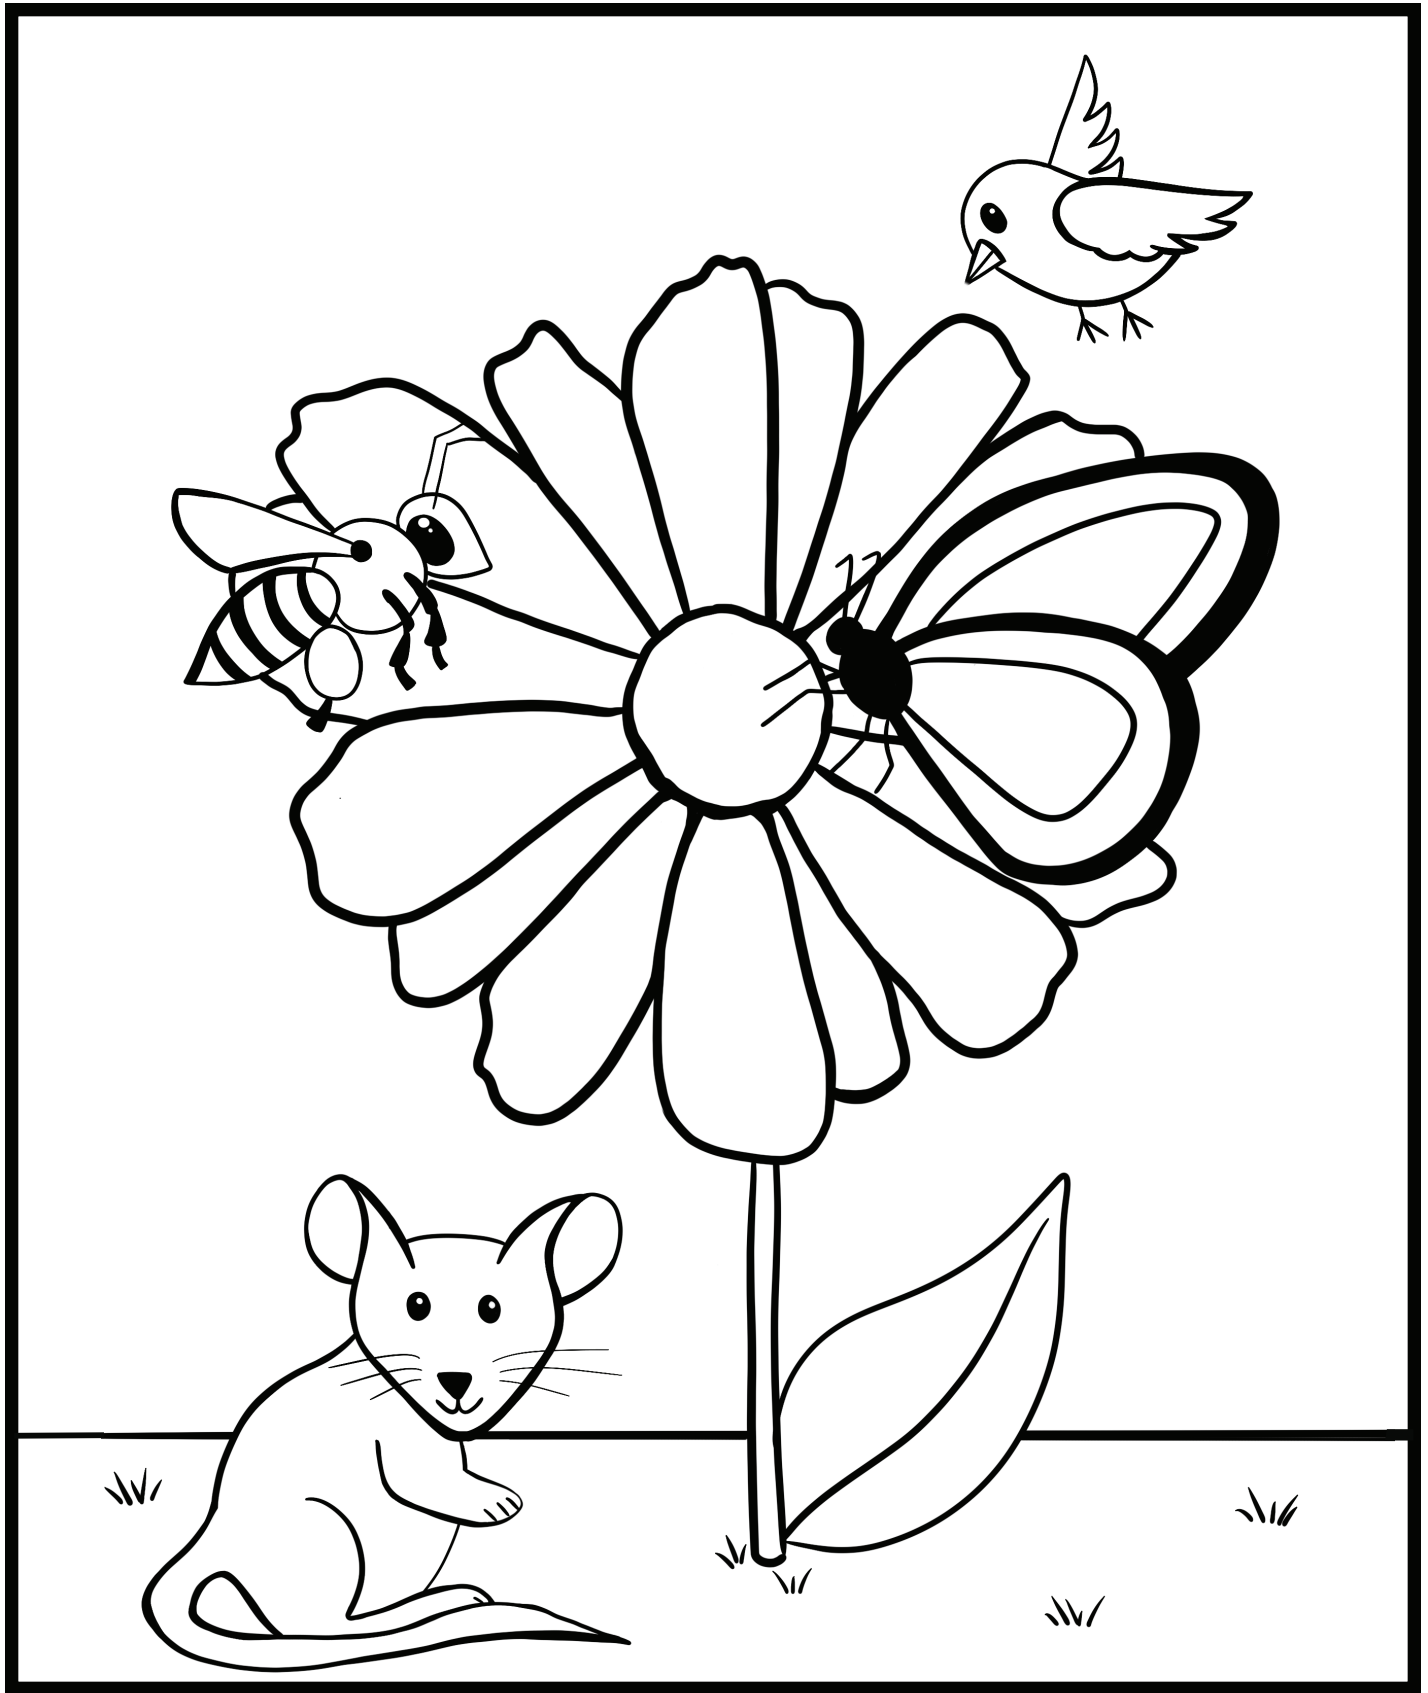

Many of the fruits and vegetables we eat come from bees visiting and pollinating flowers and helping them grow.

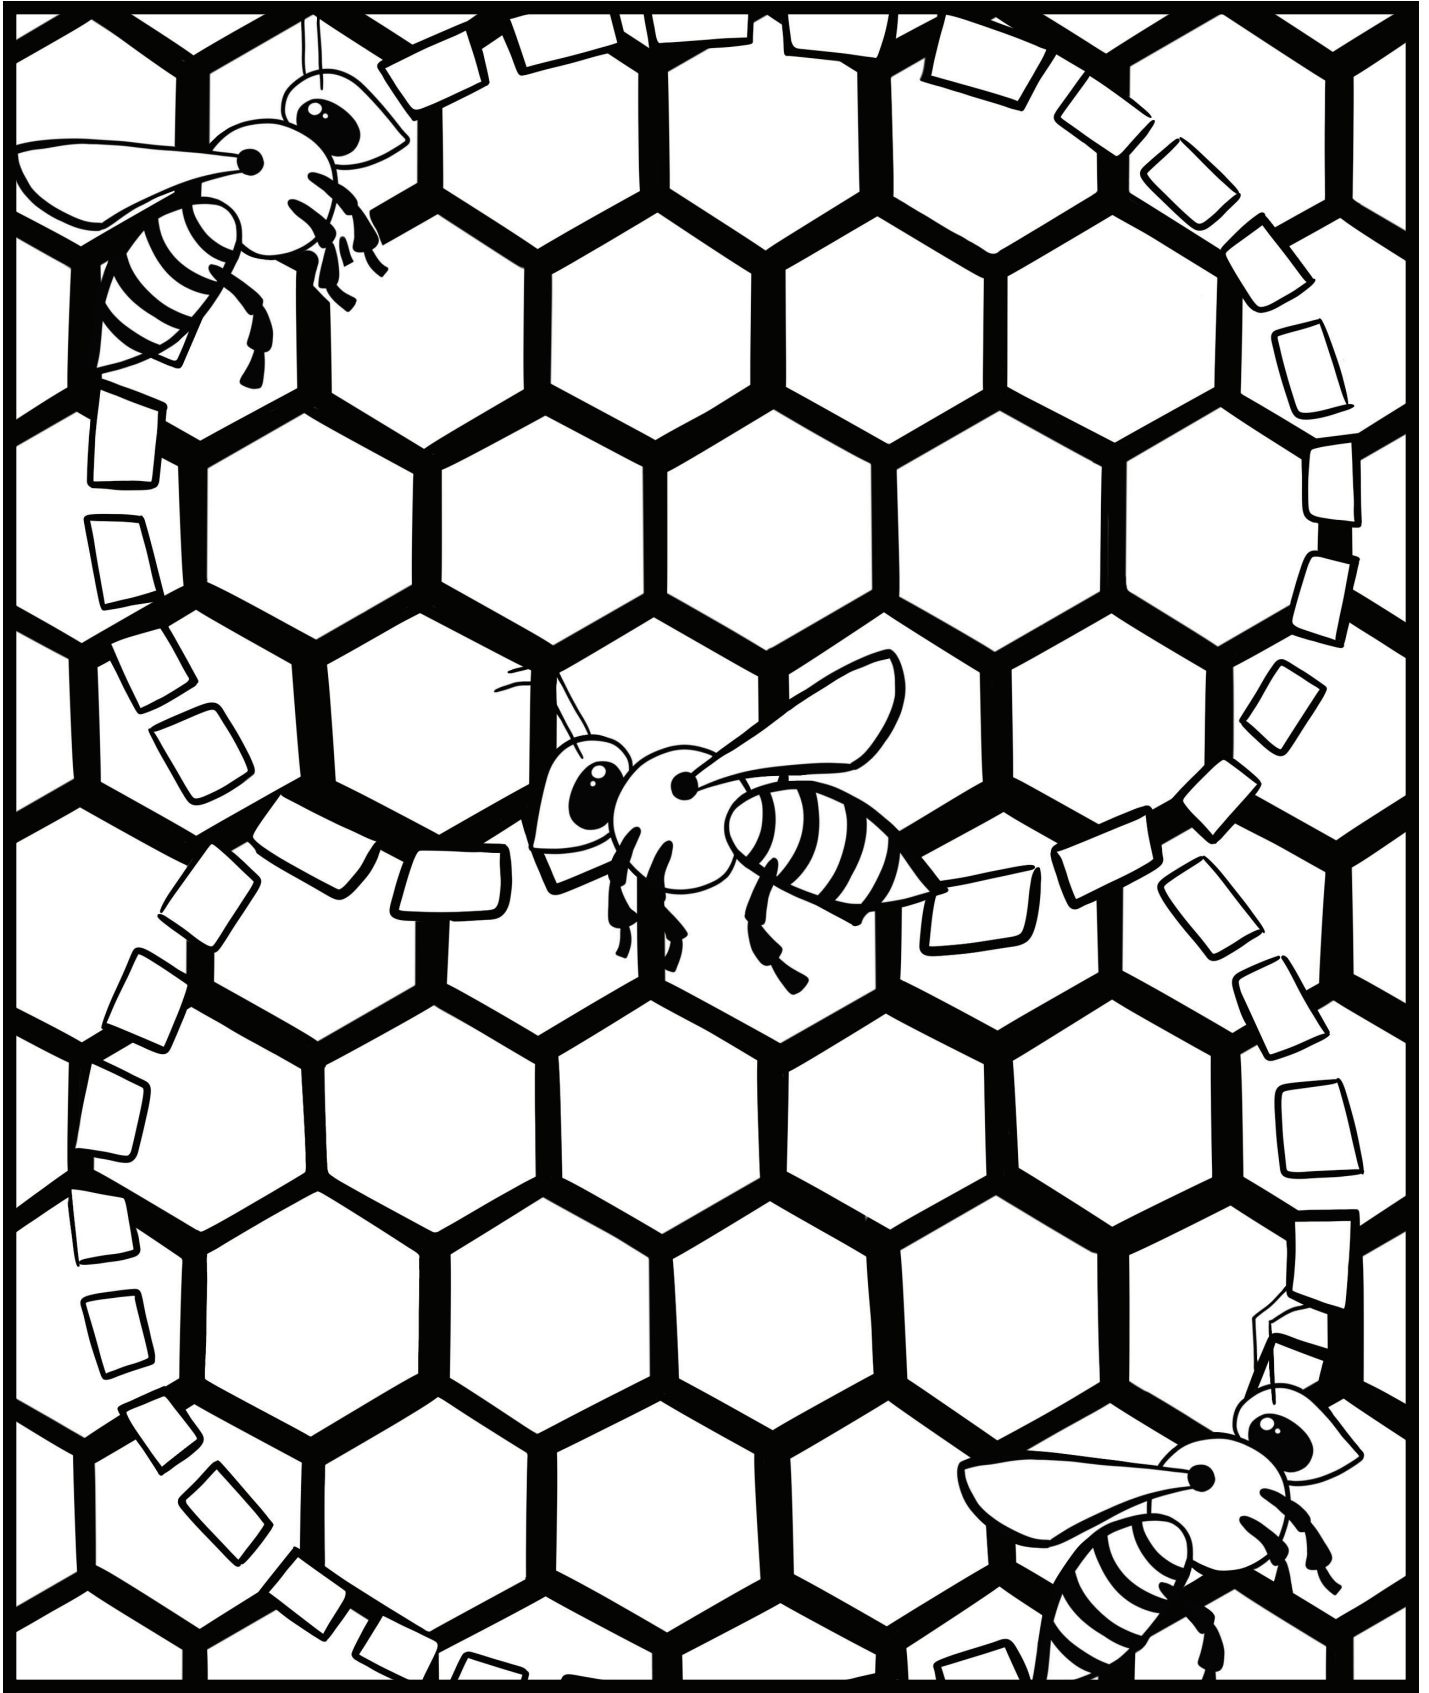

Bees drink nectar from flowers using their long tongues, bring it back to the hive, and put it inside the honeycomb. This turns into honey!

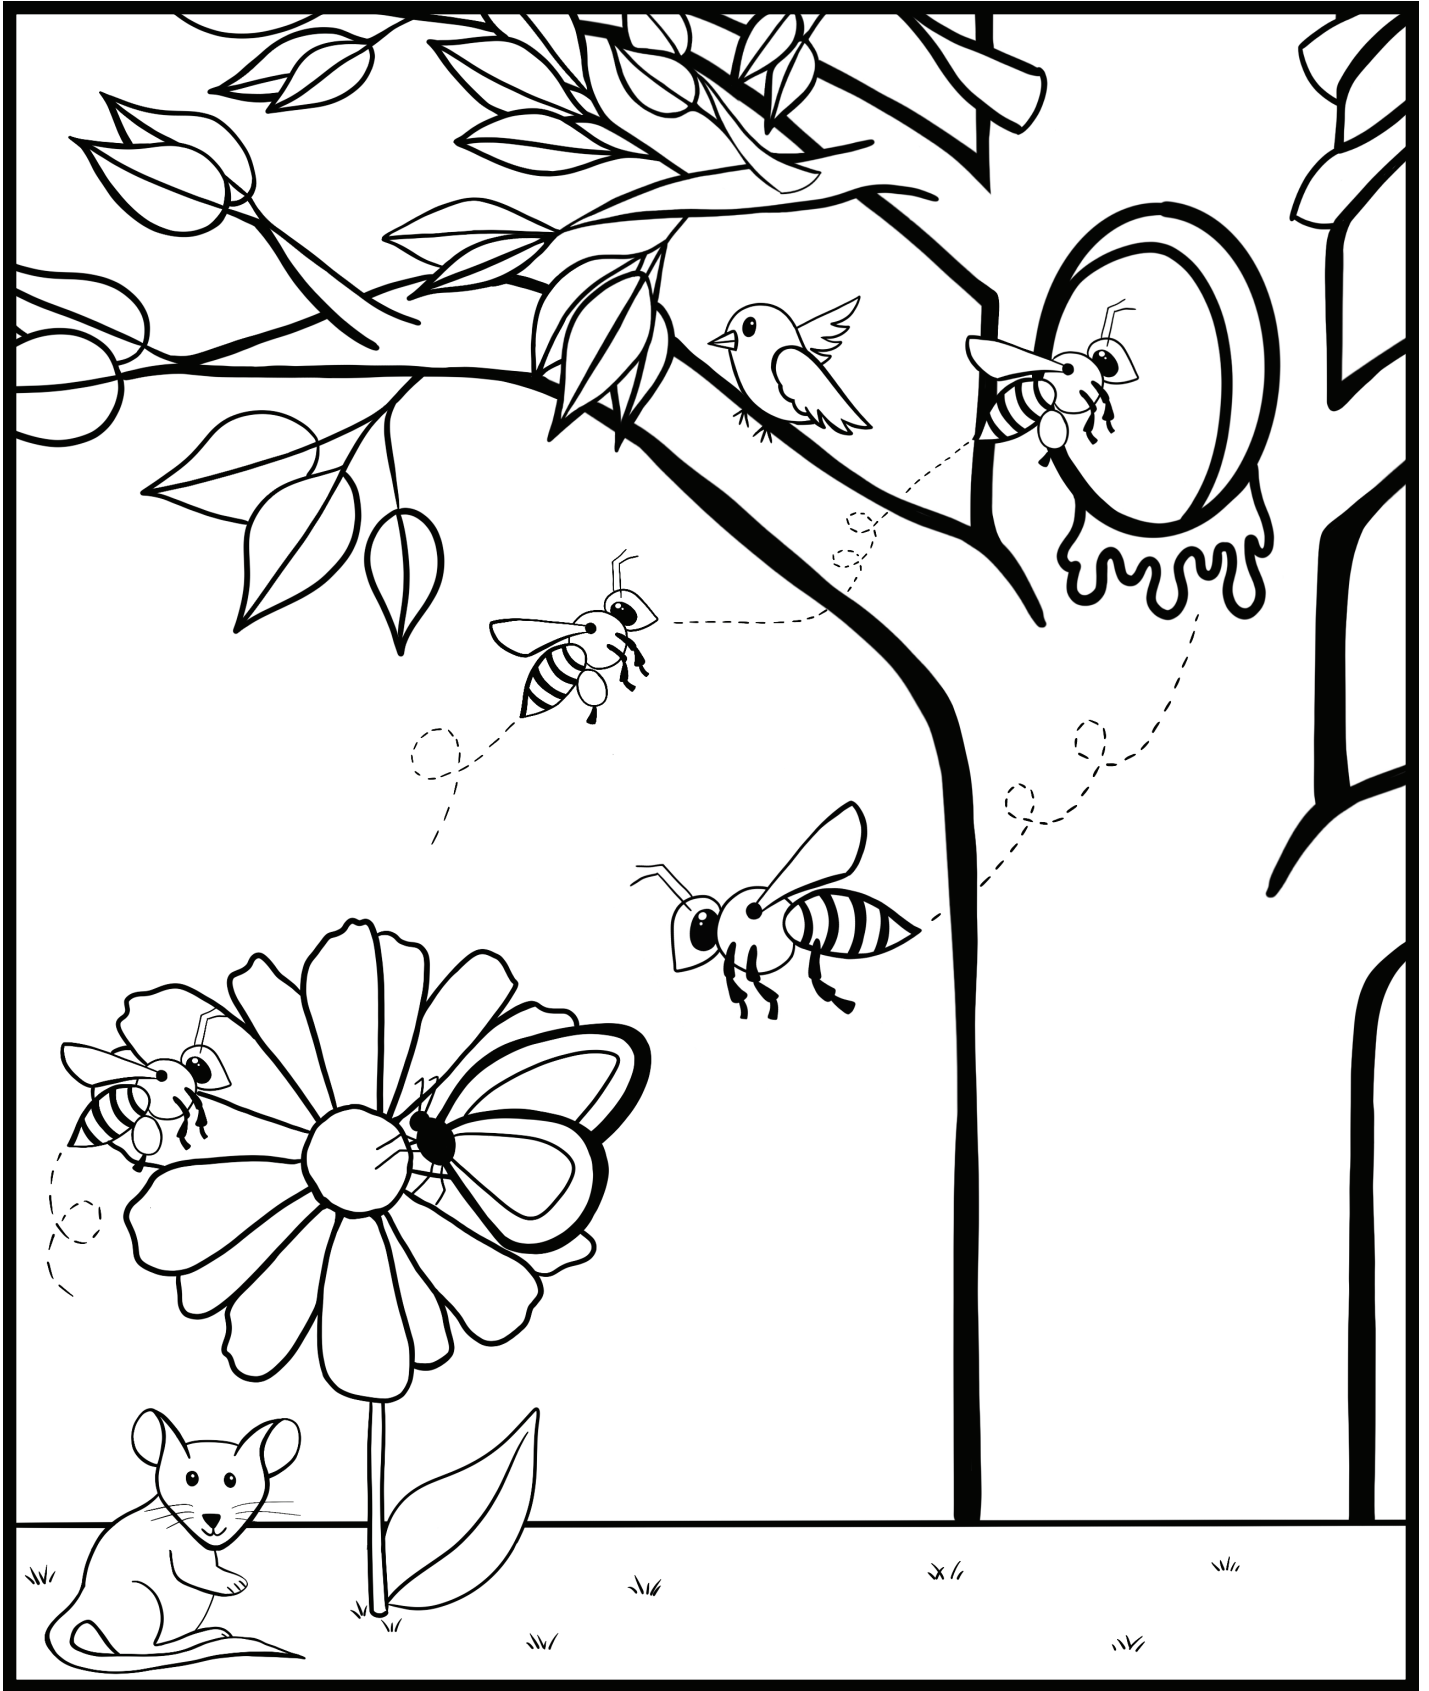

Bears love to eat honey, just like humans do.

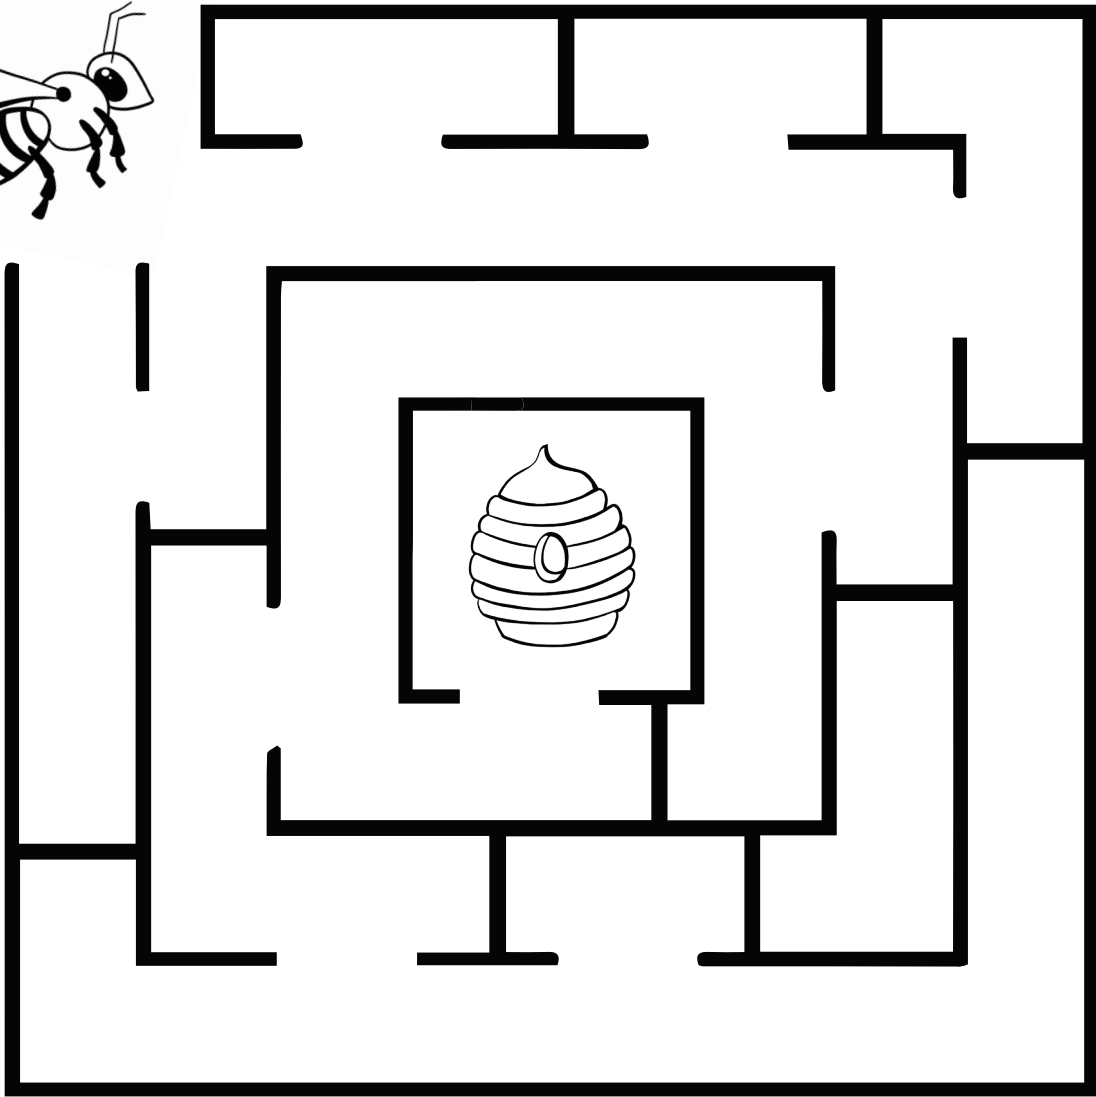

Birds, bees, butterflies and mice are all pollinators.
Bees carry pollen in baskets on their legs.

Did you know that bees talk to each other
by doing the waggle dance?

Bees can fly far away (8km's!) from their hive to find flowers.
