.a1

hellooo

thank you for downloading this activity time document.
(volume one)

i've created various pages that'll hopefully keep your kids entertained for a while, though i'm sure you'll also do a few of them.

i haven't designed them with one age group in mind,
so some will work better than others.
please have a look through and choose the ones
you want to use.

enjoy.

it's win win win!

i'd love to see some social images on instagram of you and your kids, or just you! trying out these activities.

so i'm running a competition to win one of my a4/a3 prints.

just post your image on instagram and tag me in @what.phil.sees
i'll randomly pick 2 winners on april 24th.

thank you.

.a2 amazing maze

can you make it all the way to the centre?

complete this in under 20 minutes. go!

.a3 hellooo colour in what colours will you use?

why not make each line of o's a different colour.

.a4 word search

can you find all the words?

colour in your hug and who would you love to give it to?

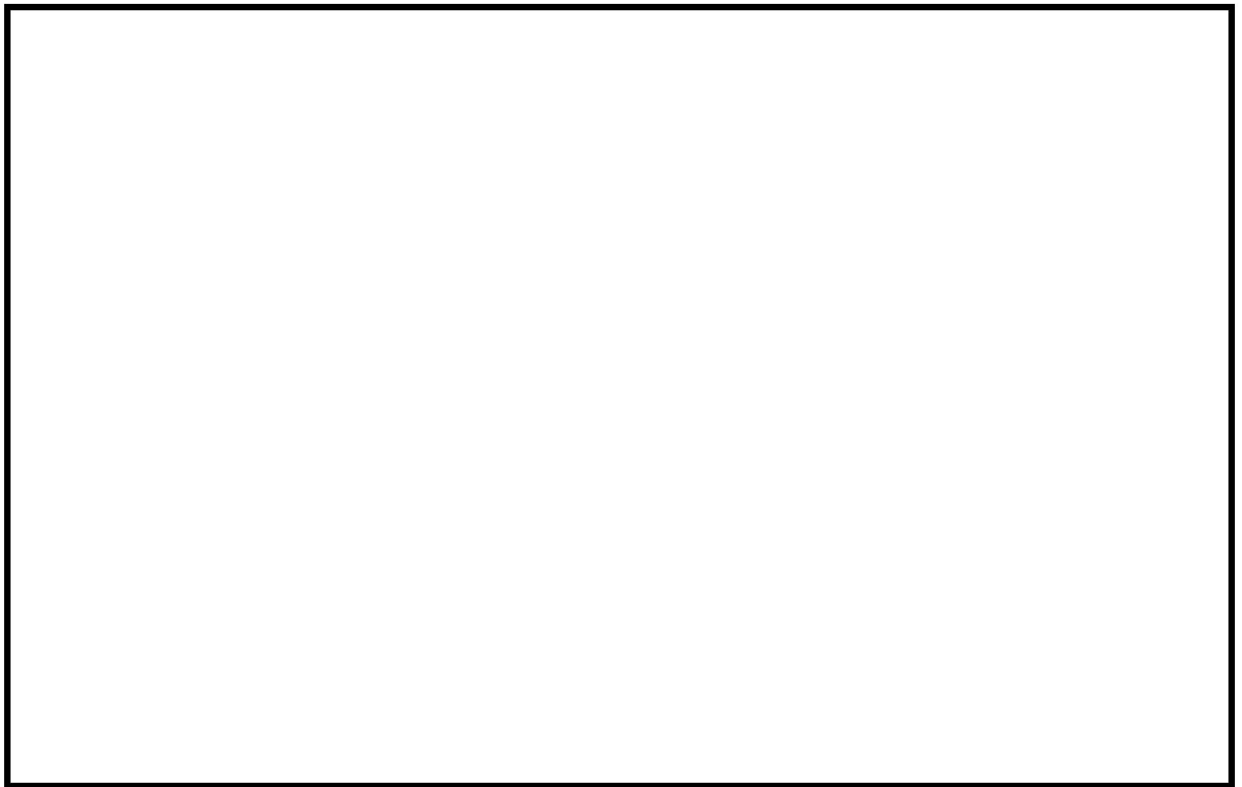

i'm sending my virtual hug to

.a9 get creative typography

playing with words.

can you turn a word into what it is saying?
here's an example of the word brick made out of bricks.

let's get you started. how about the word yum with a bite taken out of it.

.a10 i saw a connection.

thanks very much for playing along with all these activities.

i hope you enjoyed them.

they're all based on my limited edition prints.

a2 - the maze is from the prints called wonderland and found love.

a3 - the helloooooo design comes from the hellooo range of prints.

a4 - all the words in the word search are taken from the names of my prints.

a5 - the flamingos come from one of my designs.

a6 - make it messy, we love a good splat!

a7 - did you spot the differences? this image is from the print called attack of the lobster. an image i took in barcelona.

a8 - who did you send your virtual hug too? the word is taken from my big hug print.

a9 - i love type and wanted you to look at creating your own ideas! what did you come up with?
