Welcome TO 2019

My MESSAGE IS MORE THAN LINEN AND TEXTILES. I BELIEVE YOU ARE PART OF A VERY IMPORTANT INDUSTRY. EARLY EDUCATORS SHOW LITTLE PEOPLE HOW TO LOVE AND RESPECT ONE ANOTHER. I WANT TO TELL YOUR STORIES, SO YOU CAN BE INSPIRED, AND ENCOURAGED TO KNOW THAT YOU ARE PART OF SOMETHING GREAT. YOU ARE THE START OF THE EDUCATION JOURNEY.

EVERY KID IS ONE CARING
ADULT AWAY
FROM BEING A SUCCESS STORY.

I will forever be inspired by Early Educators. You are the first Educators to shape character. My girls are now toward the end of their high schooling and it provides a great time of reflection. I have a daughter that is 2019 School Captain, and the other daughter has just returned from an Exchange Program and is now tutoring at school while working and attending University. As a family we have recently been approached by teachers from Kindy and Primary School with loving congratulations. They feel proud to have influenced and proud to have been part of both my daughter's journeys.

When we think back, their first encounter with Education was at Robina Parkway Children's Centre followed by Hillcrest Christian College. My husband and I chose both of these places, for the staff. As a Jam Berry designer, I create and appreciate lovely things however, it is a clear case of PEOPLE FIRST for me.

Through this catalogue you will find the ever-expanding Jam Berry Collections plus articles of interest from those working in the industry. I did this for you. To say thanks. Thank you for being an Early Educator.

Be curious, be inspired. Enjoy life.

KIDS BROADBEACH

EVERY YEAR G8 EDUCATION
HOSTS A CONFERENCE
AND GALA AWARDS DINNER
FOR THEIR MANAGERS. JAM
BERRY IS ALWAYS PLEASED TO BE AT THE GALA EVENT TO CELEBRATE THE LEADING
EARLY EDUCATION CENTRES
WITHIN THE G8 GROUP.

The most prestigious award of the evening is the Centre Director of the year. As you all know, this only works if you have an amazing team behind you. In October 2018, I visited Community Kids Broadbeach to see what all the fuss is about.

I am delighted that I pull up to a very normal looking centre. I guess human nature is to assume that excellence must also look 'brand-new wonderful'. However, the single-story brick building was originally a house converted many, many, years ago, and this looks like a very well-kept average centre and this immediately tells me there is a wonderful team inside with a great skill set.

As I enter through 2 pool fence gates I know I'm in sunny QLD when I see a pint-sized sunscreen station. I am greeted by greeted by Rachel, Centre manager who has achieved a "Exceeding" rating under the National Quality Standards. The centre is without question a home away from home for all the families that attend. They do have a wonderful spacious yard with 2 giant trees that are the architectural centrepieces of the outdoor space. “We love being outdoors whenever we can” Kids are running and playing, everyone is happy, and they are about to sit down to eat lunch.

What makes your centre so great? Two key factors that Rachel elaborates on are 1. The importance of relationships with families and 2. Team appreciation. These qualities are intertwined. A few ways that her team receive recognition is at the monthly lunch. “Sometimes it’s as simple as Subway, but it gives us a chance to all get together and enjoy some team community. While everyone does a great job, each month I nominate 2 team members as ‘staff of the month’. They are rewarded with a small gift. It’s very important to show appreciation to the team. We have 3 Educators that have been with this centre for over 10 years and most of the others for 5-8 years.” I think that speaks volumes to the workplace vibe.

Directors can’t do everything, so by loving the team, the team in turn love the families. While Rachel allocates programming time to her lead Educators, she also knows her Educators go above and beyond, often preparing in their own time. They often arrive at work with coloured-ice or pasta craft that they have made for their kids. As I walk through the centre Rachel proudly tells me just how great her team are at setting up the rooms ready for action.

Community Kids Broadbeach does such a great job at loving the families, they never advertise. They have built a strong local community and are at capacity all year. “Families enrol because someone recommended the centre”. Rarely do kids leave unless they are going to school.” This centre should be super-proud of living up to their name “Community Kids”.

“FAMILIES ENROL BECAUSE SOMEONE RECOMMENDED THE CENTRE”. RARELY DO KIDS LEAVE UNLESS THEY ARE GOING TO SCHOOL.”

Bleaching or dry cleaning as chemicals erode fabric quality & cause discolour fabrics.

✓ WE RECOMMEND rinsing products as soon as possible when dirty to avoid staining.

✓ WE RECOMMEND and prefer to use:

- Liquid detergents to as powder may leave a residue after washing.
- Line drying if possible. I love the smell of fresh air on fabrics.
- To sanitise, soak products in Napisan or similar products instead of bleach.

JB TALKS WITH DR
BRENDA ABBEY ABOUT THE IMPORTANCE OF

Relaxation

AT REST TIME

DR BRENDA ABBEY IS A CONSULTANT WHO WORKS WITH EARLY EDUCATION AND CARE SERVICES ACROSS AUSTRALIA. SHE PRESENTS AT CONFERENCES, PROVIDES WORKSHOPS AND MENTORING. BRENDA HAS SPECIAL EXPERTISE IN THE EYLF AND MTOP AND HAS CODEVELOPED DVDS, POSTERS AND OTHER RESOURCES TO SUPPORT SERVICES INCLUDING THE "SKILL TO CHILL" CD SHE TALKS ABOUT IN THIS ARTICLE. SHE CAN BE CONTACTED BY EMAILING BRENDA@CHILDCAREBYDESIGN.COM.AU.

TEACHING CHILDREN RELAXATION TECHNIQUES DURING REST TIME ROUTINES IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION AND CARE SERVICES WOULD SIGNIFICANTLY INCREASE CHILDREN'S HEALTH AND WELLBEING, PROVIDE THEM WITH A SKILL THEY CAN USE THROUGHOUT THEIR LIVES. IT WOULD ALSO ENSURE SERVICES EXCEED THE NQS 2.1.2 AND SUPPORT CHILDREN'S PROGRESS TOWARDS LEARNING OUTCOME 3 OF THE EYLF AND MTOP.

Meeting each child's need for sleep, rest and relaxation sounds like a simple task for educators in early childhood education and care services. However, as any educator will tell you, especially those working with children older than three years, achieving this end is far from simple and requires educators to balance a number of competing demands.

To date, services and educators have used established routines to manage rest times and these generally meet the requirements of the National Quality Standard (NQS), Education and Care National Regulations (National Regulations), Early Years Learning Framework (EYLF) and My Time, Our Place (MTOP).

These routines include placing the children in a quiet environment, regulating the temperature, dimming the lights and playing soft soothing music. With few exceptions, infants and toddlers who are tired fall asleep readily.

However, older children who no longer feel the need for sleep during the day are often reluctant, even resistant, to rest or relax. Educators are then left to balance the needs of these children against those of the children who do need sleep or rest. In those services which have rest pause conditions on their licences, the task is often left to one educator.

Usually, educators manage rest time by requiring all children to lie quietly on their beds for the first 20 to 30 minutes. After that time, children who are not asleep are provided with quiet activities such as puzzles, drawing and books for the remainder of rest time.

Educators believe that these practices ensure that children who need to sleep can settle undisturbed. They also believe that these practices afford the children who do not sleep the significant physical, emotional and cognitive benefits that accompany relaxation. Further, they believe that these practices promote the children's awareness that relaxation is integral to a healthy lifestyle, increase their ability to take enduring responsibility for their health and wellbeing.

Daily rest time is an ideal opportunity to teach children the relaxation technique

Educators' beliefs about the effects of their practices on the children who do not sleep are partially correct. Relaxation does, as research evidences, bring many benefits. However, encouraging children to lay still with their eyes closed falls far short of the relaxation referred to in the research and does not teach increase children's ability to assume responsibility for their own health and wellbeing.

Relaxation results from using specific techniques designed to release body tension and calm the mind. It is an acquired technique, not one that comes naturally. Fortunately, the technique is simple and easy to teach. Once learned, it can be used through adulthood.

Daily rest time is an ideal opportunity to teach children the technique, and the best way to teach it is to use a specially devised relaxation tape. Dr Abbey has developed a CD that guides children through the process of tensing and relaxing each of their body parts in turn while encouraging them to breathe slowly and deeply throughout.

The more familiar the children become with the audio, the more readily and more deeply they relax when it is played. Such recordings usually run for 25 to 30 minutes. It helps if educators teach children the concepts in the CD for a few days before introducing the CD. These concepts include tensing and relaxing the body, pointing and toes and opening fingers. Children will then find it easier to follow the CD's instructions.

It is critical to use a relaxation CD with children rather than a meditation or visualisation tape. Using a relaxation

CD will change the tenor of rest time because it meets the needs of both sleepers and non-sleepers, so all children benefit from the atmosphere it brings. Most importantly, children learn how to relax – a skill that will benefit them for life.

Introducing relaxation techniques into rest routines would ensure that educators:

- meet children's need for sleep, rest and relaxation (QA 2.1.2, Reg 81);
 - assist children to recognise and communicate their bodily needs, such as rest (QA 2.1.2, LO 3.1)
 - promote children's awareness of a healthy lifestyle (QA 2.1.2, LO 3.2); and,
 - increase children's ability to assume greater responsibility for their own health and wellbeing (2.1.2, LO 3.1).
- Most importantly, children would be equipped with a skill that will bring them wellbeing, now, and that they can benefit from throughout their lives. Best of all, rest time could well become the time that children and educators look forward to.

Creating

CONNECTEDNESS

Jacaranda Cottage is a gem of a centre located in the heart of North Sydney. Privately owned since 1984, Cathy and Linda are co-owners and sisters who share a genuine love and passion for the child care profession. Cathy started the kindergarten in 1984 as a small 3-5's centre and moved to the existing premises in 1994. Linda joined her sister in 2001 and in 2004 they extended the premises to cater for the under 2's as well. They have a strong belief in providing children with a holistic education and are inspired by both the Reggio Emilia and Rudolf Steiner philosophies which we have implemented throughout the centre's practices for many years.

At Jacaranda Cottage, "we embrace a holistic philosophy of education, and seek to provide care and education based on wholeness, meaning and interconnectedness for the wellbeing of children, families, society and our planet."

We see our role as carers and educators to support families and to help children make and maintain meaningful connections to and between the worlds in which they live- family, centre, community, society and the natural world. We see education as the core of a lifelong journey towards being fully human, rather than just an accumulation of facts and skills. We aim to provide an environment which helps children create meaning from their experience and learn to find their unique path and purpose, to live in harmony with others, and with the Earth that sustains them, and to nurture creativity and a love of learning that they can take with them throughout their lives.

PHILOSOPHY BEHIND
JACARANDA COTTAGE.

We aim to create an environment that feels like a second home for children, families and staff, a place of belonging and acceptance and of strong, mutually beneficial relationships.

Our philosophy and curriculum is based upon the underlying principles of meaning, wholeness and connectedness with regards to Self, Others and Nature and we support this intentionally through our learning environment and curriculum.

COLOUR IN CARE: HOW IT AFFECTS THE CHILD'S PSYCHE

BY JASMINE DEETLEFS

“SIGHT IS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT SENSES THAT CONNECTS US TO THE WORLD. LIGHT AND COLOUR HAVE A MESMERIZING EFFECT ON US. ON AVERAGE, THE HUMAN EYE CAN PERCEIVE 150 DIFFERENT COLOURS IN VISIBLE LIGHT.” (COLOUR EFFECT, 2018)

GREEN

 THE COLOUR OF RELAXATION AND ABUNDANCE

Considered to be one of the most relaxing colours, green represents calmness, abundance and health. For nurseries, green is highly encouraged by specialists as it promotes the feeling of safety within the child's subconscious. In addition to this, it has been found that as children develop, the colour green can reduce anxiety and stress. A study conducted by Dr Kate Lee conceded that green hues can increase concentration and comprehension skills in the classroom, making green the perfect colour to include in early education spaces.

BLUE

 THE COLOUR OF CREATIVITY

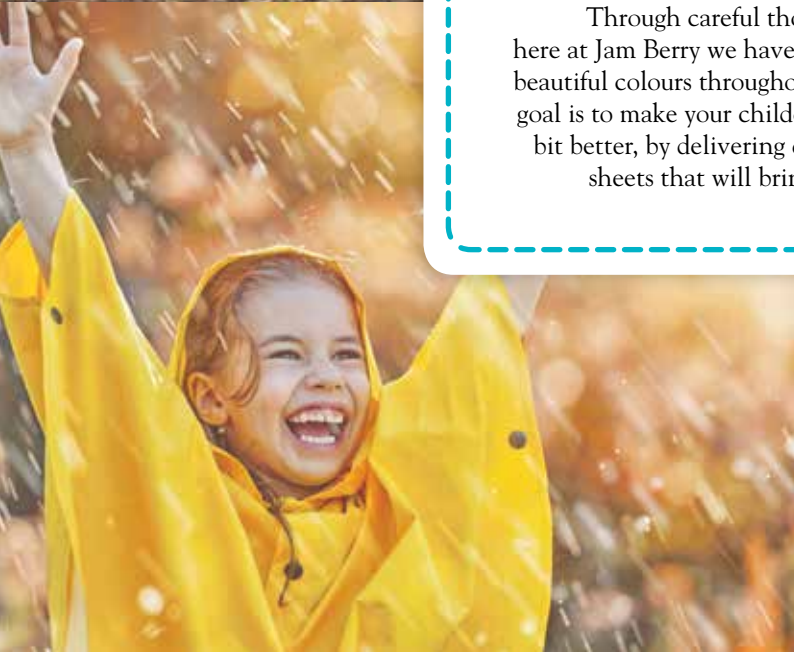

According to a survey conducted by YouGov blue is the world's favorite colour, ranking number one in ten countries over four continents. Being one of the most versatile colours, the colour blue can seamlessly bring a space together. It is also considered to be a relaxing colour that helps calm and soothes the brain making it easier to sleep. Therefore, a great colour to help put the little ones to sleep during nap time.

A MESSAGE FROM

jam ★ berry

Through careful thought and research, here at Jam Berry we have utilized each one of these beautiful colours throughout our product range. Our goal is to make your childcare experience that little bit better, by delivering quality, yet eye-catching sheets that will bring life to any room.

YELLOW

 THE COLOUR OF SUNSHINE AND HAPPINESS

Yellow has always been the colour associated with feelings of happiness. Within a room the colour yellow can bring feelings of cheeriness and often feelings of motivation. A warm yellow in an early learning space has been proven to reduce tension and anxiety while creating and promoting feelings of psychological warmth and safety.

PINK

 THE COLOUR OF LOVE AND COMPASSION

Pink is known by psychological experts to be a sensitive and sedating colour. Pink hues are known worldwide as the colours of expressing love and compassion. Soft pink tones are encouraged to be utilized within nurseries due to the soft and sweet undertones. Often widely considered to be a feminine colour, pink is the perfect colour for every little princess.

OVER 1500 CENTRES IN AUSTRALIA HAVE JAM BERRY BEDDING

BY jam ★ berry

ONCE SAID, WHEN MILK'S INVOLVED, MAGIC HAPPENS. WE DERIVED OUR PRODUCT INSPIRATION FROM THE 1950'S WHEN THE MILKMAN WOULD DELIVER FRESH MILK TO YOUR DOORSTEP. CUTE MILKMAN NO LONGER DELIVER MILK TO YOUR DOOR. BOOHOO! HOWEVER, GET EXCITED ABOUT THE NEW EVERYDAY BIB THAT IS SUPER ABSORBENT. DESIGNED TO WITHSTAND A ½ CUP OF MILK OR LIQUID WHILE KEEPING LITTLE ONE DRY.

After nine months of research and material testing, we struggled to find the perfect balance between the terry towelling soft velour feel and a high absorbency rate. So, we made the final decision to start with raw organic cotton by the 1000kg and make our own fabric blend. It was then a simple decision to choose some lovely colours that will compliment the soft skin of a baby.

With a 100% organic cotton velour towel front and a water-resistant nylon back, one of our prized key features of the bib, is a high absorbency so that you don't have to wash and change all the time. Our EVERYDAY Bib is machine washable and suitable for the tumble dryer making daily use a breeze.

KIDS BY SHERRYN DEETLEFS

YEARS AGO, WHEN DROPPING OFF MY TWO LITTLE GIRLS TO CHILDCARE, I WOULD SPEND A FEW MINUTES ENGAGING WITH THEM WHILE THEY PLAYED ON THE OUTDOOR EQUIPMENT. TO OUR GREAT SURPRISE, SIBLINGS JACK & EMILY HAD MOVED INTO OUR STREET OVER THE WEEKEND. THE KIDS HAD CONNECTED BRIEFLY AS WE WALKED TO THE PARK. BRILLIANT, NEW FRIENDS TO PLAY WITH.

Jack asked me 'what do you do for a job?' before I finished my sentence, he proudly stated 'My Mum works at Maccas!' Emily reated 'Yeah, our Mum works at Maccas! And she is the boss of her Maccas!'. My girl's jaws dropped open in unison 'Wow'. As we sat and had dinner that night, the conversation came back to what Jack and Emily would be having for dinner – McDonalds. Some kids get all the luck! Sometime later, I found out Maria was a teacher at a local private school. McDonalds wasn't Maria's idea of a dream job, but it was for Jack and Emily.

ENCOURAGE FAMILY FUN.

We all know early education is filled with fun. With busy work schedules, parents can often feel like they must give kids toys to play with.

Parents would love to know simple, easy clean up, cheap activities to keep their little ones developing at home just like they do in care.

Chalk ideas - If you can draw it, they will play on it. Think mazes to drive trucks, roads to drive scooters, snakes and ladders, obstacle course, colour hop. Pinterest and Instagram are just filled with great ideas.
