Ring Size Sheet

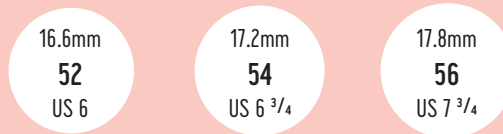

Before you measure your ring size, make sure that this Ring Size Chart is printed in letter format (US) and scaled to 100%. You can check the accuracy of your printout by placing a credit card on the following line. If the card fits, the size ratio of the print is correct and you can get started right away.

Option 1: Measure using our PURELEI ring sheet

To determine your ring size with the PURELEI Ringsheet, just grab one of your favorite and perfectly fitting rings. Then place this ring on one of the circles shown below. If your ring is the right size, you should see the white circle with a fine pink border along the inner edge of the ring.

Option 2: Measure using our PURELEI Ringizer

For this option, simply cut out the measuring tool provided. Then carefully cut along the line to create a slit. Now wrap the measuring tape around the base of your finger and pull the end through the slit - pull as close as possible to get your correct size. To make sure your new ring fits perfectly, we recommend to also measure your finger joint, as this may be partially wider than the base itself. In addition, we recommend you choose a size that will allow you to easily put on and take off your new favorite ring.
