after 'Rising of the Moon'

by John Keegan Casey

(1846 – March 17, 1870)

(1)

Oh then tell me Jane O'Meara
Tell me why you hurry so
Hush a buachaill, hush and listen
And her eyes were all a'glow

I've here orders from the people
We're all ready – it's our turn
Get out the Vote on Election Day,
And we'll Make Them Feel the Bern!

We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern
We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern
Get out the Vote on Election Day,
And We'll Make Them Feel the Bern

Tell me Jane O'Meara Sanders
Where the voting is to be
In every city, town and village
In the auld Land of the Free

Let the world hear our people
Aye, and let the world know learn
We're taking back our country,
And We'll Make Them Feel the Bern!

We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern
We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern
We're Taking Back our Country,
And We'll Make Them Feel the Bern

(3)

For the Future Generations
For the Memory of the Dead
For the Children of Flint, Michigan
Down trod by boots of lead

The only true security
Is fear and hatred spurned
For the Love of all Humanity
We Will Make Them Feel the Bern

We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern
We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern
For the Love of all Humanity,
We Will Make Them Feel the Bern

(4)

All across this Turtle Island
All along the Rio Grande
We must feed and teach and nurture
Every Woman, Child and Man

Every Color, Creed and Gender
With Heart and Mind we yearn
By Nature, God and Reason,
We Will Make Them Feel the Bern

We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern
We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern
By Nature, God and Reason
We'll Make 'em Feel the Bern

(repeat last chorus).
