

FLASH CHAT

60 seconds with Jonathan Simkhai.

The temperature is on the rise for the young New York designer, whose covet-every-piece spring/summer collection is all about living on both sides of the edge.

RIOT ACT "I was inspired by the movie Quadrophenia—when the mods show up at Brighton Beach and the rockers start throwing beach chairs at them. The aftermath was a mess but beautiful—these chic black-and-white stripes flying in different directions."

BLURRED LINES "I don't think my girl's a mod; I don't think she's a rocker. She's the best of both—maybe even the worst of both."

SHAPE-SHIFTER "My favourite piece for summer? A stretch pencil skirt. Wear it high on the waist with a crop top or long with an oversized button-down and sneakers." (From $430, at Holt Renfrew, holtrenfrew.com)

What's cool, cutting edge & important.

OBJECT OF DESIRE

There's something inherently jet set about a white watch, especially when it's worn against suntanned skin. But when that watch is Chanel's new J12-365, it assumes an aura of ultra-glamour, conjuring thoughts of Côte d'Azur adventures. That afternoon in Provence. Diamonds winking in the heat. His eyes. Wishing time would stop. That, mes amis, is priceless. Ceramic, diamond and 18-karat-white-gold watch, Chanel (price upon request, chanel.com)

SPLISH SPLASH

Poolside, lakeside or docksides, your chicest suit this summer comes courtesy of buzzy photog Gray Malin and high-tech swim brand Cover. The collab, which includes a long-sleeved one-piece and rasher in UV-blocking jersey, features the artist's aerial prints of swimmers, surfers and sunbathers on some of the world's most gorgeous beaches. Picturing yourself there is easier than ever. Jersey maillot ($299, coverswim.com)

“SUMMER SHOULD BE ALL ABOUT EASE—ATTRACTING ATTENTION, OF COURSE, BUT ALSO FEELING GOOD IN YOUR CLOTHES. A LADY-LADY LOOK FEELS A BIT DATED; ADD SOME STREET-STYLE COOL WITH EDGY LEATHER OR MESH DETAILING.”

— Kevin Carrigan, designer at Calvin Klein, on what women should wear this summer
