

TIERRA BURRELL CREATIVE BIO

There are tons of professional speakers on Earth teaching health and wellness practices, but there are NONE like Tierra!

Tierra Burrell is the founder of Tierra Goes Green, a boutique lifestyle consulting and product line business; an extension of her lifestyle designed to help others learn to heal themselves mind, body & spirit. Tierra has helped heal thousands of human beings across the planet from toxic behaviors by introducing them to a shift in their mindset. In establishing her business, she sought authenticity rather than branding. The more authentic Tierra became, the more her audience was enamored with her.

Tierra's educational background includes an undergraduate degree in Anthropology and Criminal Justice from American University. Once she discovered her true calling was to be of service to others, she abandoned her paralegal career to pursue one that allowed her to assist people in reaching their higher self. She is a retired Professional Make-Up Artist, a Holistic practitioner, a certified doula, healer, entrepreneur and teacher.

The most effective education Tierra invested in was teaching herself how to heal by reading books, attending health seminars and following nature healers. In return, she created a lifestyle she never needs a vacation from. A complete lifestyle that allows her to vibrate higher and heal others from a space of complete homeopathic practices. Tierra believes Nature has all the answers!
