SHAD USA Releases Waterproof Bags

SHAD USA IS PROUD TO INTRODUCE their new line of waterproof dry bags, the SHAD Zulupack.

Covering practically all powersports industry segments, to include ATV, scooters, on- and off-road motorcycles and watercraft, SHAD Zulupack Dry Bags offer a range of 12 distinct products covering virtually every waterproof luggage requirement.

Zulupack bags are made of a 420D Nylon double-side PVC coating, equating to a three-layer PVC-Nylon-PVC combination, making it very light, extremely pliable yet very strong, temperature tolerant and tear and abrasion resistant. With a minimum of three folds of the sealing flap and proper closure of the PVC watertight zippers, SHAD claims the bags to be absolutely waterproof. Most of the dry bags offer backpack capability using SHAD's well formed, padded adjustable shoulder and chest straps and a comfortable and supportive EVA foam back-pad.

The bags utilize a seamless welded technology construction with additional welded pieces added for straps, tie-down and stress points. All bags offer multiple mounting points and come with four attachment straps. Larger travel bags include multiple sets of side belts with alloy hooks to allow for compressing and providing quick release capability when mounted or connected to other luggage components.

Ranging from the 138L Travel Bag to a 5L waist/leg bag, the dry bags reflect a functional design approach with ruggedness, storage volume, versatility and value. All of the bags can be carried, slung, backpacked or mounted, with carrying handles, long straps for slinging, shoulder straps, variable use load straps with buckles, large D-rings and a set of four connection straps.

SHAD Zulupack is unique in that most bags are multi-functional and allow mixed use for increased versatility and value. SHAD Zulupack bags are broken down into five categories and include travel bags, rear duffel bags, backpack/rear bags, tank bags, shoulder and laptop bags and a waist/leg bag. Capacities range from 5–138 liters.

Established in 2009 and based in Miami, SHAD USA imports and sells luggage for motorcycles, ATVs and scooters. Shad headquarters is located in Barcelona, Spain, and is a designer, manufacturer and distributor of luggage for retail consumers and builds bags for 13 manufacturers including BMW, Piaggio and Yamaha.
