

Each year there is a short time between the beginning of the new harvest and when I am ready to order. You are always invited to add your order to mine BUT I cannot give you prices as they will not be available until the entire order is weighed and measured and ready to ship.

JdH