

An Anne Keane sigh is invariably followed by either a wry, mysterious smile or helpless giggles; her air of affable bemusement contrasts with her subtle, impossible chic. The goop contributing editor has looked precisely the same since high school—except for a recent, dramatic new liveness that floored us all when she showed up in a short Louis Vuitton ensemble at one of our Road-to-Table dinners last summer. She'd always been in shape, but the new Anne is next-level fit. "It's work," she says, sighing/laughing. "I mean, what did I think it was going to be?"

Her beauty routine is minimal—and part-of-the-way clean. "I want to change everything over," she says. "Tell me what I need!" A bunch of Anne's essentials were clean; a bunch more we replaced with non-toxic options from the goop Clean Beauty Shop; below, her favorites—from her tried-and-true classics to her happy new discoveries:

GP & AK 20-odd years ago (looking much as they do today).

ANNE'S MOISTURIZING SCENT TRICK

"I love to combine scented oils with unscented lotion—it feels good, and both the scent and the hydration really last."

JAO
GOE OIL
goop, $48

"I mix this with unscented lotion post-shower...it smells like the 70s—but in a good way!"

plus

TAMMY FENDER
BULGARIAN LAVENDER BODY OIL
goop, $65

"I love fresh lavender anything. I use this in a bath almost daily or mix with unscented body lotion, too."

plus

LEAVES OF TREES
UNSCENTED ARGAN
HAND AND BODY LOTION
goop, $11

"This has the perfect texture, it's so moisturising—I mix it with everything."