WEAVE SOME MAGIC

Pink may be known as the navy blue of India, but these rugs made in Jaipur are anything but dull. They've been given a fresh contemporary twist with patterns courtesy of Zara Bolingbroke-Kent, whose company Bombay Sprout has also just launched five new fabrics that are all woven and coloured by hand, using eco-friendly dyes on fine cotton. Prices start at £145 for the cotton rugs, with fabrics from £85m.
