WINDOW SERIES

'Vessel' by Simone Karras

7th August to 26th August

About the Artist

Simone Karras is a Melbourne-based ceramicist whose practice explores form and texture within a minimalist aesthetic. Her work consistently features rich textures, strong silhouettes and generous curves that contrast with sharper angles. Simone is particularly attracted to handbuilding techniques in her work such as coiling for its tactile and organic process, allowing her to take on a fluid approach when creating.

Simone is currently exploring making large sculptures to push the boundaries of scale in traditional vessels, creating striking statement pieces and keepsakes for the home.

Materials and Process

This body of work has been made using a coiling technique allowing each piece to feature a natura curve as it takes shape organicallly.

For this series Simone has worked with a range of stoneware clays to create textural vessels which she glazed on the inside for functionality whilst maintaining the outside surface raw to preserve the natural texture of the clay and highlight its matte finish.

Each piece was created over a series of weeks and fired in Simone's home studio.
