

Post Finishes & Belt Options for 35 ft. Retractable Belt Barriers

Stanchions are crowd control devices we count on every day for organized foot traffic, even when we're not conscious of it. Whether you're catching a flight or picking up groceries, you've seen these simple posts in grocery stores, airports, shopping malls, museums, and schools. Almost anywhere there may be crowds, you'll find a stanchion guiding the way.

Retractable belt barrier stanchions are simply these stanchions which have built in retractable belts rather than hanging ropes. This kind of stanchion is especially common in retail line formation, as its belt conveniently stretches or retracts to accommodate custom lengths and line barriers.
