Román Belmonte and Sergio Arranz

ISBN 978-84-948085-7-9 / Hardcover, 36 pages, 25 x 23 cm.

Price 14,30 €

From a very young age, Ben loved to paint. He didn't leave the pencils still for a moment. He painted all day and at all hours! He dreamed of being an artist. Soon he went to school and there he also continued drawing, although he could no longer do it at all hours. And although Ben was a perfectionist, something happened with him and his drawings. Miss Emilia always found them horrible. Discover in this book the story of someone who wants to express themselves and nobody let him do it ... until they understand him. Because most of the time, forgetting about others and doing what we like most, we create extraordinary, incredible and, above all, different things. First readers
