DITCH THE BROWN PAPER BAG FOR THIS GROWN UP ALTERNATIVE

If buying a new wardrobe and a set of school supplies was your favorite way to celebrate the end of summer, you'll love this stylish update on the lunchbox. Make-ahead meals—often the healthier and more economical option—continue to rise in popularity but come with the annoyance of carting extra containers, often in a plastic or paper bag. Enter Modern Picnic, a chic solution from Greenwich native Ali Kaminetsky. A vegan leather exterior takes the shape of a classic handbag while a functional insulated interior hides your leftovers. It's a fashionable way to keep your look and your lunch fresh. modernpicnic.com
