

This Chic "Purse" Is Actually a Lunchbox, and Our Work Days Will Never Be the Same

Packing your lunch can sometimes seem like a lot of hassle. You have to meal prep, pack it, and carry it to work in a usually large or flimsy grocery bag. So why should you bother? Well, besides it being healthier, cheaper, and more convenient, it's now actually more stylish, too.

The Modern Picnic Luncher ($149) is a lunchbox disguised as a purse (No, really, we thought it was a purse on Instagram!). The classic silhouette is made with vegan leather that is available in a variety of colors like blush, hunter green, navy, and, of course, black and white, as well as canvas.

Modern Picnic lunch bags are the perfect accessory for the working woman, from students and teachers to busy moms and moviegoers who want to bring their own snacks (or BYOB!). Keep reading to read more about these stylish lunchboxes, and get ready to purchase!
