10. Bling With Purpose

These winsome 14-karat-gold rings from designer Nikki Reed (Circular and One Earth Collections, $98 and up, bayouwithlove.com) are made from recycled computer motherboards in partnership with Dell. Instead of tossing that old smartphone—Americans trash $60 million of gold and silver that way each year—donate it to Dell Reconnect at select Goodwill stores.

Rings: Jonathon Kambouros. Styling by Rachel Sticklely/BA-Reps.com

11. An Icy New Blend

Pop in for a smoothie at a wellness bar like Clean Market in New York City and follow up with cryotherapy or other services. Pairing healthy drinks with a deep freeze is also popular at Six studio in Seattle and Made With Love Wellness in Santa Monica, California. "By having everything under one roof, many of our services can be used synergistically," Clean Market founder Lily Kunin says.

12. Power Lunch Box

Modern Picnic's Luncher bag ($149, modernpicnic.com) is a refined take on the usual lunch tote. Inside its chic exterior is plenty of insulated storage. The cherry on top: The vegan leather upper contributes zero waste to the environment.
