Fresh Kenyans coming in hot! All orange blossom and black tea, this is a classic juicy Kenyan.

This tasty coffee is from the Muranga District, in the Central Province region of Kenya. The coffee is washed at the Gatuya Coffee Factory, with farmers delivering their coffee here members of the New Murarandia Farmers Cooperative Society. This cooperative currently consists of over 1200 small-lot farmers. The Gatuya Factory is strongly committed to environmental conservation, with three wastewater soak pits, a form of natural filtering for wastewater. Gatuya Mill is also densely populated, with no designated zoning or restrictions to create any kind of greenbelt surrounding the mill. Despite this, they have created an ecologically sustainable model complete with banana trees to shade their coffee plants.
