

Personal shopping expert (part-time)

BUNDLEBOON is changing the way parents shop for children, by offering a personal shopping service combined with data personalization, and unique customer experience. We are taking the dressing room drama and making shopping for kids convenient and fun.

We are expanding our team and therefore looking for a Dutch speaking personal shopping expert with a massive love for children and fashion. Join our little startup and help us build a premium retail service with great market opportunity.

The position

The candidate will be responsible for an outstanding level of service, problem-solving, and making the shopping experience fun again for busy parents and their munchkins, by hand-picking outfits based on the needs and preferences of the customer.

Responsibilities:

- Consistently meeting and exceeding team performance and service goals
- To style unique outfits using product catalogues from our retail partners, by selecting items that personalized for each child
- To establish a strong client base by cultivating long-lasting relationships with our customers
- Collect customer feedback to assist the buyer in taking assortment decisions based on customer's needs

Desired skills:

- Native Dutch and fluent in English in reading and writing
- Previous experience in communication and fashion is preferred
- Motivated, flexible, social and service-minded
- Have prior retail or styling experience

What we offer:

- Dynamic work in a challenging environment
- A chance for a full-time position
- An informal, creative, and crazy team
- Free Friday Rosé (or everyday Rosé)
