Eclectic Throw Pillow Covers

Pillow Talk - August Newsletter

August feels like the calm before the storm. There are no major holidays (unless you count National Potato Day on the 19th...everyone likes potatoes).

Yes, some kids are back in school and other functions are revving up a tad. But, it's still summer.

Once Labor Day comes around though (hint: only a month away), the wonderful chaos of fall ensues.

While Arizona's autumn is a very short few weeks, it's still a persistently busy time both for ourselves and for the business. We honestly can't wait!

But remember, with all the shipping delays lately, it's best to order back-to-school teacher gifts and even holiday gifts in advance.

Also, due to getting caught up on orders, we will be foregoing a live shopping event this month. Don't worry, we'll be back to it in September!

PS. Don't forget - there's a for-you-only discount code and a fun poll at the end of this newsletter, as always.

Happy shopping!

Uniik-ly yours,

Let's just be straight-forward, shipping delays are a real thorn

Look What We Can Do!

We recently received a custom request to create a cross-stitch design for a customer.

This project not only resulted in a beautiful piece, but it was so fun to watch it transform in the shop!

A cross-stitch pillow, embroidery loop, clothing article, or even a simple handkerchief could be a heartfelt Christmas gift this year!

Just send us a message to get the process started!
