

Pillow Talk - August Adventures

Merry Christmas! The summer edition, anyway.

If you're wondering, YES, this means all current designs are on sale online (see coupon code at the bottom of this newsletter)!

We're clearing out current fall and winter designs to make room for our new holiday pillow collection, set to release September 1, 2020.

In the meantime, our new in-house printer is hard at work creating new fun and colorful summer designs. We have also experimented with new material textures like velvet, metallic sheens, embroidered designs, and more.

Speaking of Christmas, it isn't too late to start planning ahead for your holiday shopping lists. Your December wallet will thank the savvy-shopping, August version of you!

Last but certainly not least, we are still in the face mask business! Our shop is filled with adorable kids' prints and adult styles, all made by yours truly. But if you want to get fancy, custom logo masks are also available upon request!

Stay healthy, stay safe, and let us know how we can best serve you!

Uniik-ly yours,
